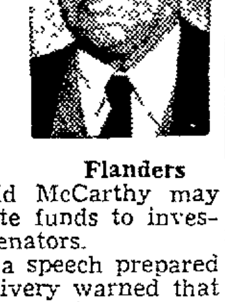
Flanders Calls Joe 'Desperate'

'Fingerprints' Indicate McCarthy Diversion

WASHINGTON (INS)— Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt) said Wednesday there are indications from "gumshoe tracks and fingerprints" that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy may try to divert attention from a censure resolution by a "smear attack" on Flanders himself.



Flanders

The New Englander called the Wisconsin Republican a "desperate man" and said McCarthy may be using Senate funds to investigate other senators.

Flanders in a speech prepared for Senate delivery warned that his censure resolution against McCarthy on which he will seek a showdown Friday, may be buried under parliamentary maneuvers or countered by a "smear attack" on himself.

Flanders said: "There are gumshoe tracks all around me and fingerprints on all the door knobs. I don't have to send for an expert to trace the source of the gumshoe tracks or the fingerprints. But I will not be diverted."

He said he would not be surprised if a file from McCarthy's Government Operations Committee would be brought out "against me."

If what happens, he said, he will call the Senate's attention to "what appears to be an interesting fact" — that the funds the Senate voted McCarthy's subcommittee are "being used to finance the preparation of files against fellow senators."

Earlier, Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY), lashed out at McCarthy in some of the strongest language ever used by one senator against another.

The New Yorker said McCarthy's activities have gagged independent thought in this country, demoralized government service, undermined trust of one man for another and inspired a "tragic mistrust" of the U.S. abroad.

Marilyn Is Out; She's No Native

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (INS)—West Virginia's Conservation Commission, which is conducting a contest to select a state animal, received 16 more votes—15 for the black bear and one for Marilyn Monroe.

Congress Silent On Rhee Plan

ROK Asks Attack On Red Mainland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, in a fighting speech to Congress, proposed Wednesday that the U.S. Navy and Air Force join in an attack by a two-million-man Asian army against Red China.

Silence was the main reaction to this proposal, voiced to a joint session of the Senate and House.

Otherwise, the lawmakers broke into applause six times for Rhee, indomitable still in his old age.

"You have to admire that old man tremendously," Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said in a typical comment later.

'Great Interest'

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was asked particularly about Rhee's call for help from the American Navy and Air Force. Wiley limited himself to saying:

"Listened with great interest to a great man and a great patriot who made a great speech for his country."

"A million and a half young Koreans ask for nothing better than to fight for the cause of human freedom, their honor and their nation.

"The government of the Republic of China also has offered you 630,000 men of its armed forces and additional reserves.

Feet of Clay

"The Communist regime on the mainland of China is a monster with feet of clay. It is hated by the masses. Red China's army numbers 2,500,000, but its loyalty is not reliable.

"A blockade of the China coast by the American Navy would produce chaos in its communications.

"The American Air Force as well as the Navy would be needed to insure the success of the counterattack of the Red Chinese regime. But, let me repeat, no American foot soldier.

"The return of the Chinese mainland to the side of the free world would automatically produce a victorious end to the wars in Korea and Indochina, and would swing the balance of power so strongly against the Soviet Union that it would not dare to risk war with the United States."

Bill Signed For Entry Of Soldier's Widow And Child

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wendell Weldon Washburn, 22-year-old Ashland, Neb., soldier in Korea and Japan, died two years ago Tuesday, the day before a son was born to his Jpanese wife.

Wednesday, on young Terry Wendell Washburn's second birthday, President Eisenhower signed legislation admitting the boy and Washburn's widow, Mrs. Ishi Washburn, to the United States as nonquota immigrants.

Washburn's family asked that legislation be passed to allow his widow and child to come to this country.

Rock Falls From Prospect Point

GIANT NIAGARA ROCK TUMBLES INTO GORGE

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A big chunk of Prospect Point, a favorite spot of honeymooners, roared into the yawning Niagara River gorge Wednesday.

Thousands saw the estimated 185,000 tons of rock, dirt and rubble plunge, in a cloud of dust, into the 170-foot-deep chasm. No one was injured.

The whole point was roped off early Wednesday when a series of deep cracks opened just upstream from the cataract.

The rock fall from the lip of the gorge was 200 feet long, 50 feet wide and 150 feet deep, officials of the Niagara Frontier State Parkes Commission estimated. About 200 feet of the falls crestline collapsed to a point about 70 feet down the face. At that point, the falls are 160 feet high.

New Look

The rockfall, largest since a huge section of the American falls toppled into the gorge Jan. 17, 1931, gave the falls a new look—a deep crevice—along its flank

The drop, which took nearly 10 minutes, started when crevices widened in the pavement and lawn at Prospect Point.

Equalization Board Summons Counties

. . . Valuation Decrease Is Indicated

By MARILY SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Equalization Wednesday called 84 counties, including 41 counties not previously summoned, to appear before the board Monday to show cause why their farm and town lot valuations should not be decreased.

The action will not necessarily result in a blanket decrease for all counties but indications are that it may result in a rather general sizing down of valuations, it was indicated.

Nine counties—including Lancaster, Douglas, Pierce, Blaine, Boyd, Brown, Cherry, Hall, and Custer—will not receive the new notice as they have already asked for hearings.

30 Heard

According to the board, the hearings thus far (more than 30 counties have been heard) have shown that there has been a substantial decline in real estate values, both farm and town, in most parts of the state. The decline has been attributed to several conditions—such as drought, a drop in market prices of cattle and other agricultural products, flood damage in some areas, etc.

The board felt it was apparent that some counties who had not received notices are as deserving of decreases as other counties who received such notices.

Gov. Robert Crosby, chairman of the board, explained that by law no county's assessment can be changed unless it is given a hearing, therefore it is necessary to call in all of Nebraska's 93 counties if equalization among all counties is to be maintained.

The governor added that the attorney general's office had informed him that the board can delay setting the state levy after the deadline, Monday Aug. 2.

The state levy is geared to the total valuations in the counties and cannot therefore be set until those valuations have been determined.

"The board restricted itself too much in sending out notices to just 42 counties," Gov. Crosby said. "It is the concensus of the board that if true equalization is to be attained and just relief is given, we must be able to act on some of the counties who were not called."

"I am personally convinced that real estate values in Nebraska have declined not less than 10 per cent and that in some localities the decline has been considerably greater," the governor added. "I think that the state board cannot produce a just result without recognizing this fact."

Gov. Crosby said that on March 10, the official date for assessments to be fixed by the counties, persons in the state were generally optimistic that drought and market conditions would be improved. This has not happened, he said, and the state board may have to adjust for previous optimism.

Million Units A Year Foreseen

Senate Approves Down-Payments Reduction; Safeguards Set Up Against 'Windfalls'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday night passed and sent to the White House an omnibus housing bill reducing down payments on homes bought with government-insured mortgages and setting up safeguards against "windfall" profits on big rental projects.

The legislation generally follows President Eisenhower's recommendations but falls short of what he asked for in low-rent public housing units subsidized by the government.

Passage came on a roll call vote of 59 to 21. It was obvious from the debate that a number of those who voted against the bill did so because they didn't like the public housing provision.

Ike Asked 140,000

Its public housing feature of 35,000 units in the next year, restricted to families actually displaced by federal slum clearance activities, compares with Eisenhower's request for 140,000 units over the next four years.

The Senate had approved the Presidents' public housing program. The House refused to authorize any new public housing authority. A conference committee agree to the 35,000 compromise.

Senators Lehman (D-Lib) and Sen. Ives (R), both of New York blasted this compromise provision in identical language — "a sham and a delusion."

Compared to Teapot

Byrd told the Senate a scandal has developed in housing which compares to the Teapot Dome oil deal of the 1920s.

Yet, he said, after 18 months in office, the Eisenhower administration has not sought or obtained a single prosecution.

Capehart countered: "Give us a little time . . . you can make an awful mess in 20 years . . . you can't clean it up in 20 days."

The measure does these main things:

1. Lowers down payments required for the purchase of new and old homes in the government's big sales-housing program and lengthens the repayment period. The measure does not, however, equalize mortgage terms for new and old homes as Eisenhower asked.

The new formula permits an FHA loan on a new house of 95 per cent of the appraised value up to $9,000 and 75 per cent of the remainder up to a maximum mortgage of $20,000. For old houses, the formula would be the same except the limit would be 90 per cent of the first $9,000.

For a house selling at the FHA appraisal of $12,000, down payments could be lowered from the present $2,400 to $1,200 for a new house and $1,650 for an old house; at $15,000, from $3,000 now to $1,950 for a new house and $2,400 for an old one; at $18,000, from $3,600 now to $2,700 for a new house and $3,150 for an old one; at $20,000, from $4,000 now to $3,200 for a new house and $3,650 for an old one.

Loans could be for as much as 30 years; they now range from 20 to 30 years.

Reasonable Profit

2. Allows builders of big rental projects who use government-insured loans to include only a "reasonable" profit as part of their legitimate costs. Those costs would have to be certified to the government after a project was completed. This provision is supposed to kill "windfall" profits.

3. Sets up a new low-cost sales housing program for families in slum-cleared areas, but refuses Eisenhower's request for no down payment in the purchase of these homes.

4. Sets up an expanded program for slum-clearance and urban rehabilitation and redevelopment.

5. Recharters the Federal National Mortgage Assn., the government's big secondary mortgage market, with provisions for private capital gradually to take over its ownership.

Power Line Is Reinstated By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska senators said Wednesday they have been informed that the Senate Appropriations Committee has placed $450,000 in its supplemental appropriations bill for a Nebraska power line.

The committee has not yet approved the appropriations bill. But Sens. Bowring and Reynolds, Republicans, learned that money for a proposed transmission line from Gavins Point Dam to Belden, Neb., has been approved. It would transmit power from the Missouri River dam into Nebraska.

Some members of the House Interior Appropriations Committee, including Chairman Jensen (R-Ia) oppose the project. Jensen says that Nebraska power interests should build the line themselves. He turned down a recent plea from Gov. Crosby of Nebraska to support the proposal.

Others May Be Involved In Penitentiary Slaying

. . . 3rd Inmate Reportedly Received Money

By BILL DOBLER And ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writers

It was learned reliably Wednesday that a third party—and possibly others—may be either directly or indirectly involved in the murder of Prison Guard John Claussen last Good Friday.

It was not immediately determined that the third party or the others actually took part in the guard's killing, but it is understood that the third person had in his possession money reportedly taken from the dead guard's wallet.

The third party who reportedly received the money taken from Claussen, who was known to carry large sums of money around with him, was present in the print shop when Claussen was killed.

The money was reported found in a vasoline jar in the inmate's cell. The money, in the amount of about $8, reportedly was given the third inmate by one of the suspects in the case.

It was thought the money was going to be used for the purchase of benezidrene, a drug prison authorities later discovered was being transported into the Penitentiary by Prison Guard Paul N. Bryant of Lincoln who was sentenced to a year in the Reformatory after pleading guilty to the charge.

Parties reported involved in the guard's slaying are said to have been repeated takers of drugs when they could get them without knowledge of prison authorities.

Charged in the murder so far are Charles Edward McClelland, 25, who has pleaded innocent, and Joseph E. DeYonghe, against whom action is being held up because of his mental condition.

Confirmation by authorities could not be received on a report that both McClelland and DeYonghe had signed statements to the effect that a third party who has not been charged in the case actually committed the murder of Guard Claussen.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener, who is running for governor, has steadfastly refused to confirm that a third person was in any way involved in the guard's killing. Wagener has said the reports on this subject were "unconfirmed and considerably unreliable."

Campaigning in Omaha Tuesday, Wagener could not be reached until Wednesday morning at his office. The county attorney's office stated that "in the interest of the successful conclusion of the investigation" no comment could be made on the reported McClelland and DeYonghe statement.

Wagener refused requests for interviews with any of the suspects involved in the Claussen investigation. Explaining his stand, Wagener stated, "no useful purpose would be served by interviewing any inmates at this time. Any interview or report thereof would only jeopardize the investigation of the case.

"I personally feel the county attorney's office has a responsibility to the public mainly to complete a successful and impartial investigation and it is felt that any such interview as now requested would very definitely be detrimental, harmful to and would jeopardize the investigation which is continuing and will continue until trial."

Efforts were also made to interview DeYonghe at the State Hospital to attempt to collaborate the reported statement made by him and McClelland involving a third party. Wagener, however, had previously phoned Hospital authorities and asked them to deny any such requested interview.

Hospital authorities, however, have agreed to obtain an opinion from the state attorney general on Wagener's jurisdiction in such a matter.

Nine Women State Candidates Set To Prove Feminine Place In Politics

By MILDRED HOLLINGSWORTH

OMAHA (AP) — Nine Nebraska women, convinced women should play a bigger part in state politics, have entered the August primary election campaign.

All believe women should have a larger role in governmental affairs.

Two seek the short-term U. S. Senate nomination, one would like to be governor, three seek the legislative seat in their district and three aspire to the state board of education.

Lincoln, site of Nebraska's state government, claims six of the politically-ambitious women. One comes from populous Omaha, another from Herman and the ninth from Axtell.

The candidates:

Mrs. George Abel, Lincoln, Republican, short-term Senate.

Mrs. Mabel Gillespie, Omaha, Democrat, short-term Senate.

Miss Mabel Fossler, Lincoln, Democrat, governor.

Mrs. Bertha R. Smith, Lincoln, legislature, 20th District.

Mrs. Ada E. Shafer, Lincoln, Legislature, 20th District.

Mrs. Kathleen A. Foote, Axtell, legislature, 31st District.

Mrs. Glenn Buck, Lincoln, state board of education, First District.

Mrs. A. E. Hanneman, Lincoln, state board of education, First District.

Mrs. Edith James Skinner, Herman, state board of education, Third District.

Man's Field

Interest of Nebraska women in a heretofore almost exclusive man's field was heightened when Mrs. Eva Bowring, Merriman rancher and a Republican, was named to the U.S. Senate, to serve until November, succeeding the late Sen. Dwight Griswold.

Of the nine candidates, one is a veteran of the political wars. She is Mrs. Gillespie, who would like to succeed Mrs. Bowring, the first woman to represent Nebraska in the U.S. Senate.

Mrs. Gillespie, widow and retired farm woman now a real estate broker, was the first woman elected to the Legislature, serving 10 years, starting in 1925. She is a former clerk of the Sarpy County District Court and was an organizer of the Eastern Nebraska Public Power District. She was a candidate for Congress in 1934 and 1936.

Another contender for the same office is by no means new to politics, although she never previously sought office. She is Mrs. Abel, a veteran worker for the Republican Party at the county and state level.

Mrs. Abel was named state vice chairman to direct Republican women's activities, succeeding Mrs. Bowring. She long has been a member of the state Republican Central Committee. The widow of a contractor, she heads the board of the Abel Investment Co. and is president of the George Philip Abel Memorial Foundation.

Not superstitious, she was the 13th Republican to file for the post.

Although Miss Fossler is making her first try in Nebraska politics, the author and poet tried unsuccessfully to be elected to the board of education at Pasadena, Calif, her former home.

"There were 15 candidates for the board," she said, and "only men were elected."

A former assistant in biology at the University of Southern California, she is a member of the American Association for Advancement of Science. She is co-author of "Colloidal Theory of the Universe."

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Shafer are opponents in the 20th (Lincoln) Legislative District. Both claim an interest in governmental affairs and are proponents of the idea of more women in politics.

Mrs. Smith, a grandmother who formerly headed the American Association of University Women in Nebraska and the state league of women voters, has appeared before the legislature numerous times in behalf of education and child wilfare. She's interested in good juvenile courts, progressive education, and doing something about the state's mentally ill.

Mrs. Shafer, who is 74, was a Douglas County Commissioner in Omaha before moving to Lincoln eight years ago.

Concerned over the trends in taxation, Mrs. Shafer said she was particularly worried about the "intensive" propoganda in behalf of the state income and state sales tax.

'Do Something'

As a legislator, she said, "Maybe I can do something about it."

Mrs. Foote, who majored in political science at Stanford University, has always been interested in government. As a farm wife, she feels she can discuss schools, taxes and roads intelligently.

The new state school board also found interest among women with Mrs. Hanneman, Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Skinner filing for the primary. Mrs. Hanneman and Mrs. Buck are opponents.

Mrs. Hanneman, who has been working with the Parent-Teacher Organization since 1931, is an immediate past president of the state PTA Congress. She is chairman of Gov. Robert Crosby's Lay Leadership Conference on Education.

Mrs. Buck, who headed a PTA organization in a Lincoln elementary school, was a teacher before she was married. With three children in school, she feels she has the time to devote to organization of the new board.

Mrs. Skinner, who has worked actively in PTA work at Tekamah, has long been interested in schools and school activities. She is hoping now to stimulate interest in organizing a PTA unit in Herman.

Marilyn Is Out; She's No Native

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (INS)—West Virginia's Conservation Commission, which is conducting a contest to select a state animal, received 16 more votes—15 for the black bear and one for Marilyn Monroe.

"I've been studying the beauties of nature all my 52 years of life," wrote one mountaineer, "and I ain't seen nothing that will compare with Marilyn."

ROK Asks Attack On Red Mainland

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, in a fighting speech to Congress, proposed Wednesday that the U.S. Navy and Air Force join in an attack by a two-million-man Asian army against Red China.

Silence was the main reaction to this proposal, voiced to a joint session of the Senate and House.

Otherwise, the lawmakers broke into applause six times for Rhee, indomitable still in his old age.

"You have to admire that old man tremendously," Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said in a typical comment later.

'Great Interest'

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was asked particularly about Rhee's call for help from the American Navy and Air Force. Wiley limited himself to saying:

"Listened with great interest to a great man and a great patriot who made a great speech for his country."

"A million and a half young Koreans ask for nothing better than to fight for the cause of human freedom, their honor and their nation.

"The government of the Republic of China also has offered you 630,000 men of its armed forces and additional reserves.

Feet of Clay

"The Communist regime on the mainland of China is a monster with feet of clay. It is hated by the masses. Red China's army numbers 2,500,000, but its loyalty is not reliable.

"A blockade of the China coast by the American Navy would produce chaos in its communications.

"The American Air Force as well as the Navy would be needed to insure the success of the counterattack of the Red Chinese regime. But, let me repeat, no American foot soldier.

"The return of the Chinese mainland to the side of the free world would automatically produce a victorious end to the wars in Korea and Indochina, and would swing the balance of power so strongly against the Soviet Union that it would not dare to risk war with the United States."

Bill Signed For Entry Of Soldier's Widow And Child

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wendell Weldon Washburn, 22-year-old Ashland, Neb., soldier in Korea and Japan, died two years ago Tuesday, the day before a son was born to his Jpanese wife.

Wednesday, on young Terry Wendell Washburn's second birthday, President Eisenhower signed legislation admitting the boy and Washburn's widow, Mrs. Ishi Washburn, to the United States as nonquota immigrants.

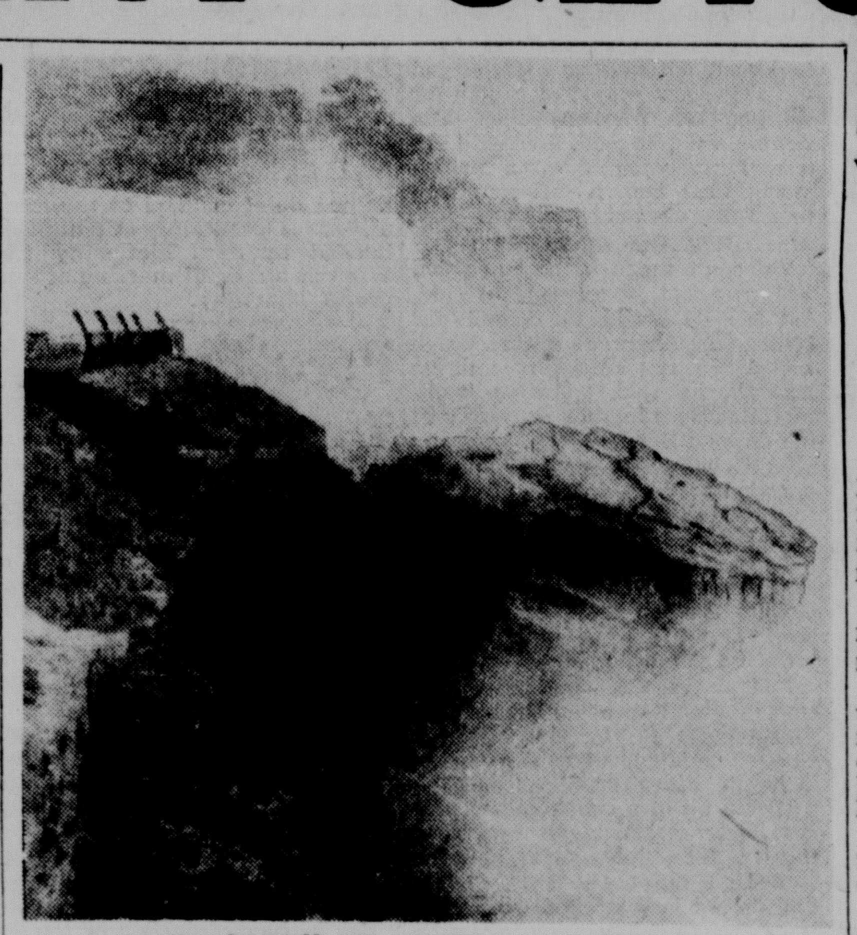
Washburn's family asked that legislation be passed to allow his widow and child to come to this country.



Rock Falls From Prospect Point

A slab of rock, thought to be at least 185,000 tons, is caught by a camera as it descends from Prospect Point at Niagara Falls, N. Y. A huge bite of the American falls went with it. (UP Telephoto)

GIANT NIAGARA ROCK TUMBLES INTO GORGE

Thousands saw the estimated 185,000 tons of rock, dirt and rubble plunge, in a cloud of dust, into the 170-foot-deep chasm. No one was injured.

The whole point was roped off early Wednesday when a series of deep cracks opened just upstream from the cataract.

The rock fall from the lip of the gorge was 200 feet long, 50 feet wide and 150 feet deep, officials of the Niagara Frontier State Parkes Commission estimated. About 200 feet of the falls crestline collapsed to a point about 70 feet down the face. At that point, the falls are 160 feet high.

New Look

The rockfall, largest since a huge section of the American falls toppled into the gorge Jan. 17, 1931, gave the falls a new look—a deep crevice—along its flank.

The drop, which took nearly 10 minutes, started when crevices widened in the pavement and lawn at Prospect Point.

Equalization Board Summons Counties

. . . Valuation Decrease Is Indicated

By MARILY SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

The State Board of Equalization Wednesday called 84 counties, including 41 counties not previously summoned, to appear before the board Monday to show cause why their farm and town lot valuations should not be decreased.

The action will not necessarily result in a blanket decrease for all counties but indications are that it may result in a rather general sizing down of valuations, it was indicated.

Nine counties—including Lancaster, Douglas, Pierce, Blaine, Boyd, Brown, Cherry, Hall, and Custer—will not receive the new notice as they have already asked for hearings.

30 Heard

According to the board, the hearings thus far (more than 30 counties have been heard) have shown that there has been a substantial decline in real estate values, both farm and town, in most parts of the state. The decline has been attributed to several conditions—such as drought, a drop in market prices of cattle and other agricultural products, flood damage in some areas, etc.

The board felt it was apparent that some counties who had not received notices are as deserving of decreases as other counties who received such notices.

Gov. Robert Crosby, chairman of the board, explained that by law no county's assessment can be changed unless it is given a hearing, therefore it is necessary to call in all of Nebraska's 93 counties if equalization among all counties is to be maintained.

The governor added that the attorney general's office had informed him that the board can delay setting the state levy after the deadline, Monday Aug. 2.

The state levy is geared to the total valuations in the counties and cannot therefore be set until those valuations have been determined.

"The board restricted itself too much in sending out notices to just 42 counties," Gov. Crosby said. "It is the concensus of the board that if true equalization is to be attained and just relief is given, we must be able to act on some of the counties who were not called."

"I am personally convinced that real estate values in Nebraska have declined not less than 10 per cent and that in some localities the decline has been considerably greater," the governor added. "I think that the state board cannot produce a just result without recognizing this fact."

Gov. Crosby said that on March 10, the official date for assessments to be fixed by the counties, persons in the state were generally optimistic that drought and market conditions would be improved. This has not happened, he said, and the state board may have to adjust for previous optimism.

Million Units A Year Foreseen

Senate Approves Down-Payments Reduction; Safeguards Set Up Against 'Windfalls'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday night passed and sent to the White House an omnibus housing bill reducing down payments on homes bought with government-insured mortgages and setting up safeguards against "windfall" profits on big rental projects.

The legislation generally follows President Eisenhower's recommendations but falls short of what he asked for in low-rent public housing units subsidized by the government.

Passage came on a roll call vote of 59 to 21. It was obvious from the debate that a number of those who voted against the bill did so because they didn't like the public housing provision.

Ike Asked 140,000

Its public housing feature of 35,000 units in the next year, restricted to families actually displaced by federal slum clearance activities, compares with Eisenhower's request for 140,000 units over the next four years.

The Senate had approved the Presidents' public housing program. The House refused to authorize any new public housing authority. A conference committee agree to the 35,000 compromise.

Senators Lehman (D-Lib) and Sen. Ives (R), both of New York blasted this compromise provision in identical language — "a sham and a delusion."

Compared to Teapot

Byrd told the Senate a scandal has developed in housing which compares to the Teapot Dome oil deal of the 1920s.

Yet, he said, after 18 months in office, the Eisenhower administration has not sought or obtained a single prosecution.

Capehart countered: "Give us a little time . . . you can make an awful mess in 20 years . . . you can't clean it up in 20 days."

The measure does these main things:

1. Lowers down payments required for the purchase of new and old homes in the government's big sales-housing program and lengthens the repayment period. The measure does not, however, equalize mortgage terms for new and old homes as Eisenhower asked.

The new formula permits an FHA loan on a new house of 95 per cent of the appraised value up to $9,000 and 75 per cent of the remainder up to a maximum mortgage of $20,000. For old houses, the formula would be the same except the limit would be 90 per cent of the first $9,000.

For a house selling at the FHA appraisal of $12,000, down payments could be lowered from the present $2,400 to $1,200 for a new house and $1,650 for an old house; at $15,000, from $3,000 now to $1,950 for a new house and $2,400 for an old one; at $18,000, from $3,600 now to $2,700 for a new house and $3,150 for an old one; at $20,000, from $4,000 now to $3,200 for a new house and $3,650 for an old one.

Loans could be for as much as 30 years; they now range from 20 to 30 years.

Reasonable Profit

2. Allows builders of big rental projects who use government-insured loans to include only a "reasonable" profit as part of their legitimate costs. Those costs would have to be certified to the government after a project was completed. This provision is supposed to kill "windfall" profits.

3. Sets up a new low-cost sales housing program for families in slum-cleared areas, but refuses Eisenhower's request for no down payment in the purchase of these homes.

4. Sets up an expanded program for slum-clearance and urban rehabilitation and redevelopment.

5. Recharters the Federal National Mortgage Assn., the government's big secondary mortgage market, with provisions for private capital gradually to take over its ownership.

Power Line Is Reinstated By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska senators said Wednesday they have been informed that the Senate Appropriations Committee has placed $450,000 in its supplemental appropriations bill for a Nebraska power line.

The committee has not yet approved the appropriations bill. But Sens. Bowring and Reynolds, Republicans, learned that money for a proposed transmission line from Gavins Point Dam to Belden, Neb., has been approved. It would transmit power from the Missouri River dam into Nebraska.

Some members of the House Interior Appropriations Committee, including Chairman Jensen (R-Ia) oppose the project. Jensen says that Nebraska power interests should build the line themselves. He turned down a recent plea from Gov. Crosby of Nebraska to support the proposal.

Others May Be Involved In Penitentiary Slaying

By BILL DOBLER And ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writers

It was learned reliably Wednesday that a third party—and possibly others—may be either directly or indirectly involved in the murder of Prison Guard John Claussen last Good Friday.

It was not immediately determined that the third party or the others actually took part in the guard's killing, but it is understood that the third person had in his possession money reportedly taken from the dead guard's wallet.

The third party who reportedly received the money taken from Claussen, who was known to carry large sums of money around with him, was present in the print shop when Claussen was killed.

The money was reported found in a vasoline jar in the inmate's cell. The money, in the amount of about $8, reportedly was given the third inmate by one of the suspects in the case.

It was thought the money was going to be used for the purchase of benezidrene, a drug prison authorities later discovered was being transported into the Penitentiary by Prison Guard Paul N. Bryant of Lincoln who was sentenced to a year in the Reformatory after pleading guilty to the charge.

Parties reported involved in the guard's slaying are said to have been repeated takers of drugs when they could get them without knowledge of prison authorities.

Charged in the murder so far are Charles Edward McClelland, 25, who has pleaded innocent, and Joseph E. DeYonghe, against whom action is being held up because of his mental condition.

Confirmation by authorities could not be received on a report that both McClelland and DeYonghe had signed statements to the effect that a third party who has not been charged in the case actually committed the murder of Guard Claussen.

County Attorney Frederick Wagener, who is running for governor, has steadfastly refused to confirm that a third person was in any way involved in the guard's killing. Wagener has said the reports on this subject were "unconfirmed and considerably unreliable."

Campaigning in Omaha Tuesday, Wagener could not be reached until Wednesday morning at his office. The county attorney's office stated that "in the interest of the successful conclusion of the investigation" no comment could be made on the reported McClelland and DeYonghe statement.

Wagener refused requests for interviews with any of the suspects involved in the Claussen investigation. Explaining his stand, Wagener stated, "no useful purpose would be served by interviewing any inmates at this time. Any interview or report thereof would only jeopardize the investigation of the case.

"I personally feel the county attorney's office has a responsibility to the public mainly to complete a successful and impartial investigation and it is felt that any such interview as now requested would very definitely be detrimental, harmful to and would jeopardize the investigation which is continuing and will continue until trial."

Efforts were also made to interview DeYonghe at the State Hospital to attempt to collaborate the reported statement made by him and McClelland involving a third party. Wagener, however, had previously phoned Hospital authorities and asked them to deny any such requested interview.

Hospital authorities, however, have agreed to obtain an opinion from the state attorney general on Wagener's jurisdiction in such a matter.

Nine Women State Candidates Set To Prove Feminine Place In Politics

By MILDRED HOLLINGSWORTH

OMAHA (AP) — Nine Nebraska women, convinced women should play a bigger part in state politics, have entered the August primary election campaign.

All believe women should have a larger role in governmental affairs.

Two seek the short-term U. S. Senate nomination, one would like to be governor, three seek the legislative seat in their district and three aspire to the state board of education.

Lincoln, site of Nebraska's state government, claims six of the politically-ambitious women. One comes from populous Omaha, another from Herman and the ninth from Axtell.

The candidates:

Mrs. George Abel, Lincoln, Republican, short-term Senate.

Mrs. Mabel Gillespie, Omaha, Democrat, short-term Senate.

Miss Mabel Fossler, Lincoln, Democrat, governor.

Mrs. Bertha R. Smith, Lincoln, legislature, 20th District.

Mrs. Ada E. Shafer, Lincoln, Legislature, 20th District.

Mrs. Kathleen A. Foote, Axtell, legislature, 31st District.

Mrs. Glenn Buck, Lincoln, state board of education, First District.

Mrs. A. E. Hanneman, Lincoln, state board of education, First District.

Mrs. Edith James Skinner, Herman, state board of education, Third District.

Man's Field

Interest of Nebraska women in a heretofore almost exclusive man's field was heightened when Mrs. Eva Bowring, Merriman rancher and a Republican, was named to the U.S. Senate, to serve until November, succeeding the late Sen. Dwight Griswold.

Of the nine candidates, one is a veteran of the political wars. She is Mrs. Gillespie, who would like to succeed Mrs. Bowring, the first woman to represent Nebraska in the U.S. Senate.

Mrs. Gillespie, widow and retired farm woman now a real estate broker, was the first woman elected to the Legislature, serving 10 years, starting in 1925. She is a former clerk of the Sarpy County District Court and was an organizer of the Eastern Nebraska Public Power District. She was a candidate for Congress in 1934 and 1936.

Another contender for the same office is by no means new to politics, although she never previously sought office. She is Mrs. Abel, a veteran worker for the Republican Party at the county and state level.

Mrs. Abel was named state vice chairman to direct Republican women's activities, succeeding Mrs. Bowring. She long has been a member of the state Republican Central Committee. The widow of a contractor, she heads the board of the Abel Investment Co. and is president of the George Philip Abel Memorial Foundation.

Not superstitious, she was the 13th Republican to file for the post.

Although Miss Fossler is making her first try in Nebraska politics, the author and poet tried unsuccessfully to be elected to the board of education at Pasadena, Calif, her former home.

"There were 15 candidates for the board," she said, and "only men were elected."

A former assistant in biology at the University of Southern California, she is a member of the American Association for Advancement of Science. She is co-author of "Colloidal Theory of the Universe."

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Shafer are opponents in the 20th (Lincoln) Legislative District. Both claim an interest in governmental affairs and are proponents of the idea of more women in politics.

Mrs. Smith, a grandmother who formerly headed the American Association of University Women in Nebraska and the state league of women voters, has appeared before the legislature numerous times in behalf of education and child wilfare. She's interested in good juvenile courts, progressive education, and doing something about the state's mentally ill.

Mrs. Shafer, who is 74, was a Douglas County Commissioner in Omaha before moving to Lincoln eight years ago.

Concerned over the trends in taxation, Mrs. Shafer said she was particularly worried about the "intensive" propoganda in behalf of the state income and state sales tax.

'Do Something'

As a legislator, she said, "Maybe I can do something about it."

Mrs. Foote, who majored in political science at Stanford University, has always been interested in government. As a farm wife, she feels she can discuss schools, taxes and roads intelligently.

The new state school board also found interest among women with Mrs. Hanneman, Mrs. Buck and Mrs. Skinner filing for the primary. Mrs. Hanneman and Mrs. Buck are opponents.

Mrs. Hanneman, who has been working with the Parent-Teacher Organization since 1931, is an immediate past president of the state PTA Congress. She is chairman of Gov. Robert Crosby's Lay Leadership Conference on Education.

Mrs. Buck, who headed a PTA organization in a Lincoln elementary school, was a teacher before she was married. With three children in school, she feels she has the time to devote to organization of the new board.

Mrs. Skinner, who has worked actively in PTA work at Tekamah, has long been interested in schools and school activities. She is hoping now to stimulate interest in organizing a PTA unit in Herman.

Republican Candidates Agree On Major Issues At Picnic In Hastings

HASTINGS (AP)—There was almost complete unanimity among the eight candidates who appeared Wednesday night on the panel at the Adams County Republican Central Committee picnic rally.

The candidates for U.S. Senator long term, and first district Congress were questioned by State Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings on a few of the major campaign issues.

The candidates indicated but little difference in their opinions as expressed by them.

The eight who were on the panel were Senatorial Candidates Carl Curtis, Walter A. Nielsen, Gov. Crosby, David Martin and Terry Carpenter, and First Congressional District Candidates Murray F. Rickard, Phil Weaver and Ira Beynon.

The questions and answers by some of the candidates:

Do you favor flexible or rigid farm support prices: Curtis, Crosby, Martin, Beynon, Weaver favored flexible supports; Carpenter 100 per cent parity. Carpenter suggested the GOP fire Secretary of Agriculture Benson "before the voters fire the GOP" Rickard favored "full parity."

Should the U.S. continue economic and military aid to Europe: Rickard sair no. Weaver would send food but no money; Beynon opposed economic aid but some military aid; Carpenter would end economic aid but spend "what it takes" to arm Germany; Martin would end both; Crosby end both: Nielsen end both; Curtis end economic aid.

Do you favor the Bricker amendment: All said they did.

If you were in position to do it would you censure Sen. McCarthy: Carpenter said he would. The others said they would not.

Do you think Red China should be admitted to the U.N. and if admitted should the U.S. withdraw: All opposed admission; Rickard, Weaver and Crosby said the U.S. should stay in if Red China was admitted, Martin said the U.S. should leave the U.N.; Nielsen said the U.N. should be "kicked out of the U.S.;" Curtis said the U.S. should leave if Red China were admitted and Carpenter said "No one here is qualified" to talk about it.

Public Power Top Issue—Herrick

By The Associated Press

Charles R. Herrick, Curtis, Neb., wheat rancher and former state legislator, said Wednesday he has reconsidered an earlier decision to withdraw and will continue his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate short term.

Herrick explained that he had filed just before the deadline when it appeared no one would seek the so-called "peewee" term, and then had attempted to defer to State Chairman William Meier, who also had filed just before the deadline.

He was informed that it was too late to have his name taken from the ballot, so Herrick now plans to see the campaign through.

Herrick said his campaign effort from here on, will be largely one of traveling about the state meeting people individually. His campaign cards will carry the slogan "one of you."

He does not plan to belabor national issues until after the primary is over, but he considers that public power is going to be one of the chief issues for the next several years.

"I believe that there will be an increase in the use of power of 50 to 100 per cent in the next five years," Herrick said, adding that he feels the public prefers the co-operative administration of power sources, rather than the shift toward private ownership of power, which he said seems likely if the present administration's trend is followed.

On the farm price support issue, Herrick said he feels that most smaller outstate Nebraska towns and possibly some larger ones would suffer materially through a drop in parity prices.

No 'Polio-Shot' Children Here Contract Disease

It's too early to tell much and Lancaster County health officials have their fingers crossed, but so far in 1954, no child inoculated with the Salk polio vaccine has contracted polio.

Only two cases have been reported in the county. Bud Heinz, 14, of 4145 Prescott, was reported in "fairly good" condition in Lincoln General Hospital. His father is Carl Heinz.

Allen Latzel, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Latzel of 1300 Furnas, earlier was reported in good condition with a mild case of spinal polio. His sister, who had been vaccinated, shows no signs of coming down with the disease.

This year, 1,371 second-graders in the county received all three polio vaccine shots.

Vote Was Against Ike, Dosek Says

Lincoln Star Special

McCOOK, Neb.—Edward A. Dosek of Lincoln, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate full-term seat, said Wednesday that the Nebraska farm vote in the wheat allotment referendum was a vote against the Eisenhower administration's farm program.

The referendum was defeated in Nebraska.

Dosek claimed that with today's modern, more expensive mechanized farming, the higher income needed to support the farmer's standard of living, is causing farmers concern. The farmer, Dosek said, wonders if he is going to be able to afford rural electrification which was provided for him. The farmer also is wondering about his land conservation program which was patterned to extend over several years.

Hruska Has Photo Taken With Ike

Hruska is unopposed in the August Nebraska primary.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hruska (R-Neb) has asked the Department of Agriculture why it refuses to permit government grain to be shipped by barge from Omaha.

Hruska told a reporter inquiries had come to him about this and that he has asked the department for an explanation. He said he wanted to know whether this is department or government policy and, if so, why and how long it has been in effect.

He said he was not pushing this matter for the barge owners, adding: "I'm not interested in them any more than the other carriers."

KOLN-TV Transfer Approved

NU To Get Channel 12, Station Channel 10

The transfer of channel 10 to KOLN-TV and the authorization for channel 12's use by Byron Dunn, trustee, for educational programing in connection with the University of Nebraska, has been approved, A. James Ebel, manager of KOLN-TV, reported Wednesday.

Ebel said that KOLN-TV will switch to channel 10 "within a week."

Dunn, who holds legal title to the channel 12 grant and an agreement to obtain certain of the vacated KOLN-TV facilities, is acting as trustee for the educational station until such time as the University decides to take over the facilities.

Limited Basis

Dr. Clifford Hardin, chancellor of the University, said the first broadcasts, on a limited basis, would not begin "until at least some time in September."

For some time, Dr. Hardin said, the broadcasting will be done with equipment and facilities loaned by station KOLN-TV. The University already has, Dr. Hardin said, "several educational films prepared especially for television."

He added, as the Board of Regents recently decided, that "we will not use any additional funds at this time. The broadcasting we do will be from funds all ready allotted."

TV Budget

The present University television budget is $40,000.

The Cornhusker Radio and Television Co. (KOLN) has made an agreement with Dunn and the University for one year's trial operation of the educational TV station with the school holding an option for another year if the University finds it feasible on a permanent basis.

The reason for Dunn acting as trustee and for the borrowing of most of the facilities, Dr. Hardin said, is that "such an operation would give the University an opportunity to develop educational TV programs and provide time to consider further" applying for an educational license.

Ike Hopeful Congress Will Enact His Program

Red China's Air Attacks Part Of Plan To Split West's Allies, President Says

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would be bitterly disappointed should Congress fail to enact six major parts of his legislative program—tax, farm, anti-Communist, housing, Social Security and foreign aid bills.

Their purpose, Eisenhower told a news conference, is to strengthen America at home and increase her security abroad.

He said he also can see no escape from a boost in the 275 billion dollar limit on the public debt. The increase is a necessity, he said, but plans to meet the problem aren't yet ready for announcement.

Red Chinese attacks on British and American planes off the Asiatic coast, Eisenhower said, are at the very least a part of a plan for splitting the Western Allies. The Communists, he said, apologized at once for shooting down a British plane, then took a different attitude when we were involved.

Will Defend Rights

We don't mean to be impulsive and truculent, the President said, but we do mean to defend our rights. The American planes which shot down two attacking Chinese aircraft, he said, were on legitimate business hunting survivors of the downed British plane.

The conference was strictly a question and answer affair, a leisurely, good-humored session punctuated by frequent chuckles and laughter from President and press. And it swept over a wide range of current foreign and domestic issues.

On the domestic side it covered:

Politics — The chief executive said he didn't think he should support anyone in the congressional election campaigns who doesn't believe in his principles, and he makes a bit of a check on the records of those candidates who want their pictures taken with him for campaign purposes. But he said different ideas about different things make deomocracy, and support of the administration or his own personal views needn't be 100 per cent.

Watch tariff — Eisenhower defended the decision he made Tuesday to hike duties on some imported watches as a specialized case to help an industry and preserve skills needed for defense purposes. With one other partial exception — alsike clover seed—he said he has turned down all other federal Tariff Commission recommendations for duty increases because he must have a freer, bigger, better flow on international trade.

Food prices — Asked whether he has evidence of a consumer revolt against them, Eisenhower said he had heard here and there about the high price of food and cost of living. But he said the cost of living index has been about as stable as could possibly be expected the last 18 months.

Overhaul Tax Bill Is Passed

Senate Approval May Come Today Following House OK, 315 To 77

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's big tax revision program, slicing revenues about $1,363,000,000 in the fiscal year which began July 1, rolled through final House passage Wednesday, 315 to 77.

Reps. Hruska and Miller of Nebraska voted with the 315-77 majority. Rep. Harrison was not listed as voting and Rep. Curtis is in Nebraska campaigning for the senate. All are Republicans. Miller and Hruska also voted with the majority when the House defeated, 227-169, a motion to recommit the bill.

Only Senate approval—scheduled Thursday is needed now to send to the White House the biggest tax overhaul in history.

The House defeated, 227-169, a last - ditch Democratic move to strip from the program a disputed tax cut on dividends. A similar fight over the dividend issue is expected in the Senate.

The compromise bill, running about 1,000 pages, revamps the entire national tax structure. It does not change major rates but it gives individuals and business firms scores of new or bigger tax deductions.

Families Would Benefit

For individuals, the deductions would go principally to families with large medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Business firms and individuals alike would benefit from the dividend tax cut. Business firms also would be given much more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements.

URW Charges Attempt To Mislead Public

Local 286 of the United Rubber Workers charged Wednesday night that "There appears to be an attempt to mislead the public into believing that the United Rubber Workers are attempting to get a wage increase to which they are not entitled."

Said a statement issued by union leaders: "The steel and electrical workers received five cents per hour across the board plus seven cents which Mr. (Richard) Jay, local plant manager, calls 'minor fringe benefits.'"

"Since the steel workers received 12 cents, the Rubber Workers feel that the five cents offered by the company is inadequate as a wage increase and a means of liquidating inter-plant inequities. Existing inequities within the Goodyear system amount to as much as 72 cents per hour.

"The union wishes to point out the company could have averted this strike by a sincere attempt to negotiate with our policy committee any time between May 22 and July 7. The union members involved in the strike realize they are losing money. They are also aware of the cause."

The union's statement ended with a charge that "it appears that Goodyear is more concerned about paying high dividends to the stockholders than they are in the welfare of their employees."

The strike, which includes about 575 local employees, entered its fourth week at 11 p.m. Wednesday.

WITH THE CANDIDATES:

Republican Candidates Agree On Major Issues At Picnic In Hastings

HASTINGS (AP)—There was almost complete unanimity among the eight candidates who appeared Wednesday night on the panel at the Adams County Republican Central Committee picnic rally.

The candidates for U.S. Senator long term, and first district Congress were questioned by State Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings on a few of the major campaign issues.

The candidates indicated but little difference in their opinions as expressed by them.

The eight who were on the panel were Senatorial Candidates Carl Curtis, Walter A. Nielsen, Gov. Crosby, David Martin and Terry Carpenter, and First Congressional District Candidates Murray F. Rickard, Phil Weaver and Ira Beynon.

The questions and answers by some of the candidates:

Do you favor flexible or rigid farm support prices: Curtis, Crosby, Martin, Beynon, Weaver favored flexible supports; Carpenter 100 per cent parity. Carpenter suggested the GOP fire Secretary of Agriculture Benson "before the voters fire the GOP" Rickard favored "full parity."

Should the U.S. continue economic and military aid to Europe: Rickard sair no. Weaver would send food but no money; Beynon opposed economic aid but some military aid; Carpenter would end economic aid but spend "what it takes" to arm Germany; Martin would end both; Crosby end both; Nielsen end both; Curtis end economic aid.

Do you favor the Bricker amendment: All said they did.

If you were in position to do it would you censure Sen. McCarthy: Carpenter said he would. The others said they would not.

Do you think Red China should be admitted to the U.N. and if admitted should the U.S. withdraw: All opposed admission; Rickard, Weaver and Crosby said the U.S. should stay in if Red China was admitted, Martin said the U.S. should leave the U.N.; Nielsen said the U.N. should be "kicked out of the U.S.;" Curtis said the U.S. should leave if Red China were admitted and Carpenter said "No one here is qualified" to talk about it.

Public Power Top Issue—Herrick

By The Associated Press

Charles R. Herrick, Curtis, Neb., wheat rancher and former state legislator, said Wednesday he has reconsidered an earlier decision to withdraw and will continue his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate short term.

Herrick explained that he had filed just before the deadline when it appeared no one would seek the so-called "peewee" term, and then had attempted to defer to State Chairman William Meier, who also had filed just before the deadline.

He was informed that it was too late to have his name taken from the ballot, so Herrick now plans to see the campaign through.

Herrick said his campaign effort from here on, will be largely one of traveling about the state meeting people individually. His campaign cards will carry the slogan "one of you."

He does not plan to belabor national issues until after the primary is over, but he considers that public power is going to be one of the chief issues for the next several years.

"I believe that there will be an increase in the use of power of 50 to 100 per cent in the next five years," Herrick said, adding that he feels the public prefers the co-operative administration of power sources, rather than the shift toward private ownership of power, which he said seems likely if the present administration's trend is followed.

On the farm price support issue, Herrick said he feels that most smaller outstate Nebraska towns and possibly some larger ones would suffer materially through a drop in parity prices.

No 'Polio-Shot' Children Here Contract Disease

It's too early to tell much and Lancaster County health officials have their fingers crossed, but so far in 1954, no child inoculated with the Salk polio vaccine has contracted polio.

Only two cases have been reported in the county. Bud Heinz, 14, of 4145 Prescott, was reported in "fairly good" condition in Lincoln General Hospital. His father is Carl Heinz.

Allen Latzel, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Latzel of 1300 Furnas, earlier was reported in good condition with a mild case of spinal polio. His sister, who had been vaccinated, shows no signs of coming down with the disease.

This year, 1,371 second-graders in the county received all three polio vaccine shots.

Vote Was Against Ike, Dosek Says

Lincoln Star Special

McCOOK, Neb. — Edward A. Dosek of Lincoln, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate full-term seat, said Wednesday that the Nebraska farm vote in the wheat allotment referendum was a vote against the Eisenhower administration's farm program.

The referendum was defeated in Nebraska.

Dosek claimed that with today's modern, more expensive mechanized farming, the higher income needed to support the farmer's standard of living, is causing farmers concern. The farmer, Dosek said, wonders if he is going to be able to afford rural electrification which was provided for him. The farmer also is wondering about his land conservation program which was patterned to extend over several years.

Hruska Has Photo Taken With Ike

Hruska is unopposed in the August Nebraska primary.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hruska (R-Neb) has asked the Department of Agriculture why it refuses to permit government grain to be shipped by barge from Omaha.

Hruska told a reporter inquiries had come to him about this and that he has asked the department for an explanation. He said he wanted to know whether this is department or government policy and, if so, why and how long it has been in effect.

He said he was not pushing this matter for the barge owners, adding: "I'm not interested in them any more than the other carriers."

KOLN-TV Transfer Approved

NU To Get Channel 12, Station Channel 10

The transfer of channel 10 to KOLN-TV and the authorization for channel 12's use by Byron Dunn, trustee, for educational programing in connection with the University of Nebraska, has been approved, A. James Ebel, manager of KOLN-TV, reported Wednesday.

Ebel said that KOLN-TV will switch to channel 10 "within a week."

Dunn, who holds legal title to the channel 12 grant and an agreement to obtain certain of the vacated KOLN-TV facilities, is acting as trustee for the educational station until such time as the University decides to take over the facilities.

Limited Basis

Dr. Clifford Hardin, chancellor of the University, said the first broadcasts, on a limited basis, would not begin "until at least some time in September."

For some time, Dr. Hardin said, the broadcasting will be done with equipment and facilities loaned by station KOLN-TV. The University already has, Dr. Hardin said, "several educational films prepared especially for television."

He added, as the Board of Regents recently decided, that "we will not use any additional funds at this time. The broadcasting we do will be from funds all ready allotted."

TV Budget

The present University television budget is $40,000.

The Cornhusker Radio and Television Co. (KOLN) has made an agreement with Dunn and the University for one year's trial operation of the educational TV station with the school holding an option for another year if the University finds it feasible on a permanent basis.

The reason for Dunn acting as trustee and for the borrowing of most of the facilities, Dr. Hardin said, is that "such an operation would give the University an opportunity to develop educational TV programs and provide time to consider further" applying for an educational license.

Ike Hopeful Congress Will Enact His Program

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would be bitterly disappointed should Congress fail to enact six major parts of his legislative program—tax, farm, anti-Communist, housing, Social Security and foreign aid bills.

Their purpose, Eisenhower told a news conference, is to strengthen America at home and increase her security abroad.

He said he also can see no escape from a boost in the 275 billion dollar limit on the public debt. The increase is a necessity, he said, but plans to meet the problem aren't yet ready for announcement.

Red Chinese attacks on British and American planes off the Asiatic coast, Eisenhower said, are at the very least a part of a plan for splitting the Western Allies. The Communists, he said, apologized at once for shooting down a British plane, then took a different attitude when we were involved.

Will Defend Rights

We don't mean to be impulsive and truculent, the President said, but we do mean to defend our rights. The American planes which shot down two attacking Chinese aircraft, he said, were on legitimate business hunting survivors of the downed British plane.

The conference was strictly a question and answer affair, a leisurely, good-humored session punctuated by frequent chuckles and laughter from President and press. And it swept over a wide range of current foreign and domestic issues.

On the domestic side it covered:

Politics — The chief executive said he didn't think he should support anyone in the congressional election campaigns who doesn't believe in his principles, and he makes a bit of a check on the records of those candidates who want their pictures taken with him for campaign purposes. But he said different ideas about different things make deomocracy, and support of the administration or his own personal views needn't be 100 per cent.

Watch tariff — Eisenhower defended the decision he made Tuesday to hike duties on some imported watches as a specialized case to help an industry and preserve skills needed for defense purposes. With one other partial exception — alsike clover seed—he said he has turned down all other federal Tariff Commission recommendations for duty increases because he must have a freer, bigger, better flow on international trade.

Food prices — Asked whether he has evidence of a consumer revolt against them, Eisenhower said he had heard here and there about the high price of food and cost of living. But he said the cost of living index has been about as stable as could possibly be expected the last 18 months.

Overhaul Tax Bill Is Passed

Senate Approval May Come Today Following House OK, 315 To 77

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's big tax revision program, slicing revenues about $1,363,000,000 in the fiscal year which began July 1, rolled through final House passage Wednesday, 315 to 77.

Reps. Hruska and Miller of Nebraska voted with the 315-77 majority. Rep. Harrison was not listed as voting and Rep. Curtis is in Nebraska campaigning for the senate. All are Republicans. Miller and Hruska also voted with the majority when the House defeated, 227-169, a motion to recommit the bill.

Only Senate approval—scheduled Thursday is needed now to send to the White House the biggest tax overhaul in history.

The House defeated, 227-169, a last - ditch Democratic move to strip from the program a disputed tax cut on dividends. A similar fight over the dividend issue is expected in the Senate.

On final passage, 201 Republicans and 114 Democrats voted for the bill. Three Republicans, 73 Democrats and one Independent voted against it.

The compromise bill, running about 1,000 pages, revamps the entire national tax structure. It does not change major rates but it gives individuals and business firms scores of new or bigger tax deductions.

Families Would Benefit

For individuals, the deductions would go principally to families with large medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Business firms and individuals alike would benefit from the dividend tax cut. Business firms also would be given much more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements.

Sailor Fights For Life In Diving Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—A battery of Navy doctors, stripped down to their shorts, worked round-the-clock Wednesday inside a decompression chamber in a fight for the life of a young Navy diver who collapsed mysteriously inside a diving tank.

The victim of the mishap, described as the first of its kind in the 27-year history of the Navy Deep Sea Diving School, was Arthur L. Appleton, 24, machinist's mate from Carbondale, Ill.

Lt. Comdr. W. A. Wilson, who heads the diving school, said he was at a loss to understand the ailment. Appleton's condition was rated as "serious."

The deep sea dives are simulated in a special tank at the Naval Gun Factory here. It permits pressures equal to as great as those at a depth of 300 feet. When appleton collapsed, shortly before noon Tuesday, he was on a 15-minute routine dive in 10 feet of water with pressures equal to 100 feet.

Dizziness

Reginald Shepard, boatswain's mate from Salt Lake City, another student who was with Appleton in the tank, reported his companion was suffering from dizziness and asked to be brought back to the surface.

Appleton was whisked to the surface and taken through a series of tunnels into a decompression chamber where Albert W. Holmes, hospitalman Groton, Conn., went to work on him.

They were joined shortly afterwards by Cmdr. Moffett K. Holler, medical officer at the school. Both Holler and Holmes have been "riding it out" — in Wilson's words—ever since. Food was sent to them through the connecting tunnels.

More Doctors

In the 40-foot decompression chamber, the doctors and medical aides worked busily on Appleton's legs and arms in an apparent effort to stir blood circulation.

Throughout the night and again Wednesday, additional doctors—some of them civilians—and other aids moved in and out of the chamber to help in the treatment.

The diving school maintains a complement of 75 selected petty officers, who must go through a rigorous medical examination before being permitted to do any diving.

Opinion On Bodies Of Indigents Given

An opinion dealing with the disposition of bodies of indigent persons was delivered Wednesday by the Nebraska attorney general's office.

County Attorney Ross D. Druliner Jr., of Benkelman had asked for an interpretation of law in the matter, "particularly as to whether or not the coroner has the right to insist that a body be buried within the county in which the person dies and charge the same to the county insofar as burial costs are concerned."

The attorney general's opinion held that where a person dies whose burial must be at public expense, local officers are required to inform the state anatomical board or its agent and give the board an opportunity to claim the body. If the board refuses to claim the body, it then becomes the duty of the county officials to have the body buried at the county's expense.

Tooth Belonged To One Of First State Elephants

A six-pound tooth, said to have come from an elephant of the middle pleistocene age about 100,000 years ago, was found by Charles A. Smith of Dawson in the Meyer gravel pit near Preston.

Lloyd Tanner, assistant curator of vertebrate paleontology at the University of Nebraska, said the elephant probably was among the first such animals in the Great Plains area.

Sailor Fights For Life In Diving Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—A battery of Navy doctors, stripped down to their shorts, worked round-the-clock Wednesday inside a decompression chamber in a fight for the life of a young Navy diver who collapsed mysteriously inside a diving tank.

The victim of the mishap, described as the first of its kind in the 27-year history of the Navy Deep Sea Diving School, was Arthur L. Appleton, 24, machinist's mate from Carbondale, Ill.

Lt. Comdr. W. A. Wilson, who heads the diving school, said he was at a loss to understand the ailment. Appleton's condition was rated as "serious."

The deep sea dives are simulated in a special tank at the Naval Gun Factory here. It permits pressures equal to as great as those at a depth of 300 feet. When appleton collapsed, shortly before noon Tuesday, he was on a 15-minute routine dive in 10 feet of water with pressures equal to 100 feet.

Dizziness

Reginald Shepard, boatswain's mate from Salt Lake City, another student who was with Appleton in the tank, reported his companion was suffering from dizziness and asked to be brought back to the surface.

Appleton was whisked to the surface and taken through a series of tunnels into a decompression chamber where Albert W. Holmes, hospitalman Groton, Conn., went to work on him.

They were joined shortly afterwards by Cmdr. Moffett K. Holler, medical officer at the school. Both Holler and Holmes have been "riding it out" — in Wilson's words—ever since. Food was sent to them through the connecting tunnels.

More Doctors

In the 40-foot decompression chamber, the doctors and medical aides worked busily on Appleton's legs and arms in an apparent effort to stir blood circulation.

Throughout the night and again Wednesday, additional doctors—some of them civilians—and other aids moved in and out of the chamber to help in the treatment.

The diving school maintains a complement of 75 selected petty officers, who must go through a rigorous medical examination before being permitted to do any diving.

Bedside Lapidary

The average reader probably doesn't pick up such publications as "Rocks and Minerals" or "Mineralogist" or similar publications for idle perusal, but should he chance to do so, he would find listed there the intriguing entry: "Bedside Lapidary, Curley Washechek, O'Neill, Nebraska."

Curley Washechek was a truck driver, a big brawny handsome young man filled with the zest of his trade. Then 14 years ago a bone disorder began to bother him. He consulted doctors, many of them, but his trouble was an unusual one, a medical puzzler. The malady persisted, stiffening his spine until he could no longer sit up but was forced to lie flat on his back in bed, moving only his head and arms.

It was from a friend's suggestion that the idea for a "bedside lapidary" took form and grew amazingly. He had gathered a plentiful supply of rocks from a previous trip to Oregon and so began the tedious experiment of grinding and cutting them. As his talent developed, so did his enthusiasm. His mechanical experience stood him in good stead as he rigged up a large turntable over the bed. Here he mounted his machines, [illegible] saw, electric soldering [illegible], stone polisher, and other necessary [illegible]. A mirror enabled him to reach all the machines and manipulate them, but it also entailed the further complication of doing most of the work in reverse.

Gradually a few trinkets emerged from the first painful labors and then more as self-instruction and plucky determination combined with the offerings of friends who saw to it that the craftsman was amply supplied with raw materials. Many admirers over the country began to send him material, too, as news of his [illegible] spread. Today he conducts a [illegible] business in exquisite [illegible] of all kinds—rings, bracelets, necklaces, earrings—with a large [illegible] accumulated over the years. For [illegible] pagodas, [illegible] and carved articles [illegible].

Self-pity is not his selling point. He is a man of good cheer. For the most of us who [illegible] complainingly, the story of Curley Washechek has a rare inspirational ingredient. It prompts a personal [illegible] setting into proper perspective again [illegible] and an admiration for one who in the very finest sense is truly "master of his fate, captain of his soul."

Thanks To The Few

As the years go by the people of the United States will more and more bless that gallant minority of senators who with their backs to the wall fought effectively enough to save the atomic energy bill from becoming one of the nation's historic errors.

It is still a premature, dangerous piece of legislation, unsuited in timeliness and substance for the tremendous job that is to be done—if it is to be done wisely and justly. And there is no guarantee that its softening, coming as the result of the Senate battle, will fall through. The Senate's version must clear the barriers of joint House and Senate sharpshooting, for the House recently passed the measure more nearly in the form asked by the Eisenhower administration. It may reject the saving clauses fought into the measure in the Senate.

But the gallant minority restored the principle of anti-monopoly. It gained for public power the right of original use of atomic generation while the original measure would have reserved the great new resource to private power, and of that to the few favored or fortunate.

This alone was a tremendous service to Nebraska which is totally a public power state and was directly in the line of fire, threatened by the original intention of the measure with the role of outcast.

It is only to be regretted that Nebraska's two senators, Eva Bowring and Sam Reynolds, were not in the forefront of the fight to save Nebraska. They voted consistently with the majority.

One cannot complain of a measure now that provides opportunity both for private enterprise and for public power. It would have been as wrong to legislate against private power as it would have been to exclude public power from the age's greatest power source—a source developed at public expense, $12 billion of it, for the public welfare.

Unfortunately the Eisenhower deal that will give to the Dixon-Yates combination a special plum in the TVA area, namely, the right and probably most of the financing to build an electric generating plant whose more than 600,000 kw will wheel over TVA's lines to TVA customers, remains in the Senate bill.

This, indeed, will stand as a bad precedent, a guidepost which could lead to unending exploitation by a few well positioned private operators. It is by no means an example of free private enterprise nor an act beneficial to private enterprise in general. The definition of private enterprise does not include public financing, special fields and sure things federally granted. It spells privilege, instead, and something that private enterprise cannot prevail against.

The best that can be said of the atomic energy bill in its domestic half is that it is premature, poorly thought out and improper. Time, test and careful study are the elements needed to fit such a great, almost revolutionary, resource into the American economy.

But thanks to the clear minded, gallant minority, the Senate measure now contains some of the vital ingredients that will at least prevent the bill from becoming a calamitous measure.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

If nothing more than good clean fun, it is a lot of sport to send a play—to use football parlance—around Hyde Sweet's end, or maybe now that he has taken on a little more weight, he is playing tackle or roving guard. Noting that we had been in California, in a recent column Mr. Sweet wrote that he hoped it rained before we got back for dry weather would inspire us to go the limit in portraying the horrors of drought.

On The Wings Of A Storm

Not that it was of any importance, but we felt we should let Mr. Sweet know we came home literally in a general rainstorm. There was a cloudburst 10 miles out of Salt Lake City. Much of Utah and Wyoming had been washed clean by a generous all-night downpour. God was in His heavens and there were puddles of water in the streets at Laramie. There had been a gentle shower of short duration at Kimball and Sidney. Both North Platte and Grand Island had light drizzle. Not until we reached this section did we run out of rain, but due to a delay in time schedule we had the pleasure of looking at lightning in the skies well after the midnight hour. So by unanimous consent, we will spare Mr. Sweet the agony for at least 24 hours. We knew the old boy is a power but we had no idea that he had a working arrangement with nature to arrange for such an auspicious homecoming.

★

No foolin', little drops of water and little grains of sand make a mighty ocean and pleasant land. We're inclined to think that any quickie of California all depends on what you're looking for. We had heard a lot about new industry moving out there, and the evidence was there in front of our eyes. We had heard of huge apartment and housing developments, and just for the heck of it, the day before leaving the west coast we took a run out to the new apartment development of one of the great life insurance companies of this country. It was all they say it is and a little bit more. To appreciate it fully, one must see it because words are a pretty poor substitute to measure its magnitude.

Many Sources Of Income

We have a faint appreciation of what Mr. Sweet is talking about when he launches into rebuttal anent California's bathing beauties. And we can agree with him somewhere around 150 per cent when it comes to what he calls over-touted resort towns. If that is the sort of stuff one is investigating, o. k. But it is impossible to laugh off the varied sources of income back of the rapidly growing population gains of a state which feels that it is self-sufficient in itself, and the rest of the world can go hang. It is mighty handy to have a commercial fishing industry producing millions when drought sets in. It is fortunate to have a crop far underground, a crop running into the hundreds of millions year after year, but in its oil industry with its thousands of producing wells—and they are producing wells, not dry holes or abandoned wells—a state may rejoice over its luck when drought sets in. And a state that never receives more than five to 15 inches of rainfall a year, all of that coming at a certain period, is more than lucky when it can appropriate most of the water of neighboring states. Then there is the tourist business producing rich dividends, the amazing development of truck gardening, the citrus industry, mining, and heaven knows what. But perhaps California's greatest source of strength is that Californians are able to agree that what is best for California is good for each one of its sons and daughters. Now and then, rugged individualists that we are, it might not be a bad idea if we could agree on one or two matters as to what and how to promote Nebraska's welfare.

★

Sneer though he may, this merely is to inform Mr. Sweet that we came back again, impressed with the fact that a state which has so little water (California) can do so much with it. And her neighbors will know what we mean. Every day in every way, Californians are looking around to exploit their meager water resources—meager in terms of natural rainfall. And it pays handsomely.

Hurrah For Benson

Most all will agree that Secretary Benson's reorganization of practices in selecting precinct delegates and committeemen in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation setup is a good one.

Benson has taken away from the county ASC committee the right to dominate the nomination of precinct representatives. The responsibility has been spread to a special board consisting of ASC, county extension, soil conservation, FHA representatives plus spokesmen for the three farm organizations. Henceforth they will preside over the nominating and electing machinery.

The danger in the former method was that of self perpetuation by county committees. Such power is a temptation. And even when it is carefully avoided it is hard to convince a skeptical public that election jockeying did not take place. If there were no examples of self-seeking use of power the open possibility of it was enough to shake confidence.

Johnson Hustles Votes Among GOP

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, overwhelmingly renominated in Texas last week, has put himself in the paradoxical position of quietly going round among his Senate colleagues getting promises that they will vote for him as Senate leader next year.

On the surface this would seem strange indeed. But to insiders who watched the strained relations between the handsome Senate Democratic leader and the Democratic senators he is supposed to lead, it was not strange at all.

After Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, vice-presidential nominee in 1952 and one of the recognized national leaders of the Democratic party, indirectly complained on the Senate floor about Johnson's minus-quantity leadership last week, Lyndon was livid. First he went over to Sparkman's desk and remonstrated. Sparkman, however, didn't budge an inch.

He had stated publicly that Knowland had failed to consult with the Democrats who were really leading the Senate and he meant it. Johnson had been sitting on the sidelines and refusing to co-operate in the debate on a bill which will govern American factories and power plants in future generations.

Failing to budge Sparkman, Johnson then tried to get the Senate floor to defend his leadership. But Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota refused to yield.

"I am not going to yield for an attack on those who have been carrying on this fight," he told Johnson.

It was at this point that Johnson began making his deal with Sen. Knowland of California to end the debate

Late next day, when Democrats heard what Lyndon was up to, it was decided to send a delegation to see him. So five Democrats approached Johnson on the Senate floor—Hill of Alabama, Anderson of New Mexico, a former member of the cabinet; Stennis of Mississippi, Gore of Tennessee and Jackson of Washington.

Johnson suggested that they come up to his office. They did so. He was courteous but cool. Hill then started to argue against Johnson's proposed statement against his fellow Democrats which they said merely played into Knowland's hands.

"You would be surprised," remarked Johnson, "at some of your Southern colleagues who plan to vote for cloture."

The five senators were certain this was not so, that no Southern senators would vote to cut off debate. (In the end only one—Holland of Florida—did.) But before they could argue much, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson brought a note in to her husband. He read it and said he would have to go back to the Senate floor at once. Johnson did not explain what the note said, but his colleagues suspected it came from GOP Leader Knowland.

For Johnson immediately delivered a speech, aimed at breaking the record atom fillibuster which Knowland had battled so hard to defeat.

Shortly after that a peculiar thing happened. As Johnson took his seat in the front row, Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, great friend of Sen. McCarthy, got up and read a speech praising Johnson and his renomination in Texas. Goldwater had his speech written out. It was not a spur-of-the-moment burst of enthusiasm.

Then Knowland followed with another tribute to Johnson. His eloquence made them appear buddies, not opponents. Then Cordon of Oregon, another Republican, paid tribute. Then all Republicans on the floor arose and applauded, following which they walked over to Johnson and shook his hand.

But the significant thing was that not a single Democrat walked over to Johnson to congratulate him.

Finally Smathers of Florida rose and reminded the Republicans that this was a Democratic victory, not a Republican one, and pointed to a Democratic trend.

Embarrassed at the lack of Democratic congratulations, Johnson walked over to the last seat near the door which senators have to pass as they exit. There he made it a point of shaking hands with Democratic senators as they departed.

That's why the versatile Lyndon is already corralling votes for fear he won't be Democratic leader when the senate comes back in January.

Many readers have asked this newsman for predictions on how individual senators will vote on Sen. McCarthy when the Flanders resolution of censure comes up this week. In brief, it can be reported that McCarthy will get the hard core of about 19 consistent supporters, most of them Republicans. There will also be about 30 Democrats definitely voting against him.

The balance of the senate largely hangs in the balance and will be partly swayed by the position of Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, hitherto a McCarthy man, but who tangled with McCarthy during the army hearings. If McClellan makes a strong statement against his former friend, a great many conservative democrats will follow him.

Meanwhile, here is the line-up of Democrats who are either planning to vote for McCarthy or are leaning toward him: Maybank, S.C.; Byrd and Robertson, Va., despite McCarthy's unfair speech about their friend, Gen. George Marshall; Lennon, N.C.; Eastland, Miss.; Johnson and Daniel of Texas, Kennedy, Mass.; Frear, Del.

Middle-of-the-road Republicans leaning toward McCarthy include: Saltonstall, Mass.; Ferguson, Mich.; Bush and Purtel, Conn.; Cordon, Ore.; Kuchel, Calif.; Martin, Pa.; Dworshak, Idaho; Carlson, Kans.; Bennett, Utah; Robertson, Hickenlooper, Iowa.

Note—Senator Knowland is going to do his best to prevent any vote at all on the Flanders resolution. He has been buttonholing senators urging them to block all debate and vote only on a motion to table the Flander resolution — despite the fact that he previoulsy gave his word to Flanders that he would permit the resolution to be voted on.

Johnson Weakened A-Power Filibuster

WASHINGTON—After a certain point in a filibuster is reached—the first really prolonged session does it—the august United States Senate is transformed into a bunch of ornery small boys with chips on their shoulders.

They are bright boys still: indeed, the brightest and best usually bear the brunt of a filibuster. They still know a lot about the subject under discussion. After all, it is only issues deeply felt and shrewdly understood which provoke filibusters.

What fails under the pressure of too close and too lengthy contact is the sense of proportion and perspective. Ninety-six senators, each elected on his merits and with the right to place a high value on his own opinions, begin to assert themselves with a passion and pride generally kept in leash by maturity and the traditions of the greatest gentlemen's club in the world.

So the chips on the shoulders appear—and get knocked off. The cutting edge to a voice will give a clue to personal antagonisms hitherto concealed. It is very good theatre, which accounts for the fact that the galleries are crowded in the daytime and reluctantly empty only in the small hours of the morning.

Some of the wounds of the filibuster never heal. Fortunately, most of them yield to a good night's sleep.

The present filibuster bears on the atomic power contract President Eisenhower so cavalierly thrust into the situation with his order to the Atomic Energy Commission to co-operate in a project its majority had turned down. The President's action convinced a sizeable and able group of senators, including two Republicans, that TVA was in danger and that atomic power for peacetime uses would be rushed into private channels without due consideration of the public interest.

The men who have argued this case understand it and have had long experience with it. They have forced acceptance of some of their amendments, though the House-Senate conference represents a hazard to their victories. They have failed to displace the private power contract which will, if possible, be subjected to a court test. They do not have the votes to defeat the atomic legislation itself.

The filibusterers had had it last Saturday when Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, who had been voting with them, stepped in to compromise the issue. At that point, Sen. Johnson's oil-and-water minority — which he had synthesized with great skill all during the session —separated violently into its component parts.

The filibusterers were helpless because Sen. Johnson cashed in on long association with and help to their leader, Sen. Albert Gore. Sen. Gore fought the Republican majority hard; he was not willing to draw the issue with Sen. Johnson. He respects Johnson's judgment that it was time to negotiate.

Some senators, who feel bitterly that their leader fired on his own troops and kidnaped their general, will be a long time getting over it, if ever.

Their harsh reaction will be a part of the price the senator from Texas must pay for a self-assurance which led him to plunge in Saturday against the advice of some of his friends. It was the day of his long-awaited primary and several felt he was in much too emotional a frame of mind to take so important a step.

Majority Leader Knowland also has been getting pounded, so much so that wits have suggested the filibuster against Sen. Knowland and not the atom. Actually, according to a veteran of these contests, Sen. Knowland has displayed rare generosity and forbearence beyond what could have been expected from past leaders on both sides of the aisle.

The senator from California does not, however, express himself well and he is often insensitive to the feelings of others. It is his manner, not his heart, that is at fault. Also, he is inclined to be single-minded in a job where flexibility and humor will take care of most of the obstacles.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Summertime Canine Care

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Do not leave your dog in the car, even with the car windows down, in the hot weather.

That is the advice of Erich Hartmann of 1629 So. 48th, a dog owner himself.

"The hot sun will cause the dog to suffocate," he says.

He knows of two dogs that have died because of such treatment.

Hartmann recalls hearing a story of a man back east who saw a dog locked up in a car one hot day. The man, evidently a dog lover, broke all the windows on the car to give the poor dog a little more fresh cool air.

The postal employee raises dachshunds, a dog with short hair, which can take more heat than some other long-haired dogs. But Hartman just the same is careful of his dogs in the summer time.

Hartman suggests that if your dog is suffering from a heat stroke, dampen the basement floor with water and allow the dog to stay there.

Just now Erich has two ten-weeks-old dachshunds called "Little Mouse" and "Donnie Von Christine" who delight in escaping with little one-and-a-half-year-old Audrey Hartmann's yellow bunny.

Little Audrey will give a squeal of disapproval, but the young scamps will continue to sink their tiny but sharp teeth into the cloth toy.

The two puppies are sometimes on the other end of an antic when little Audrey grabs hold of their tails. This time the squeal comes from the pups.

'ELLA VON MORRIS' AND AUDREY HARTMANN
. . . a perpetual game of tug-o'war . . .

Ella can proudly toss her head when she goes into the living room of the Hartmanns, because there is a shining trophy where the dog placed "best of show" at the Omaha puppy match.

Ella also has other ribbons and cups for her sleek but elongated form.

Each of the dogs has a warm place to sleep at least the first part of the night. For when Alfred, 10, Ronald, 7, and Audrey Hartmann make ready for bed, each of them slips a dog into bed with him. The odorless dogs that do not shed leave no telltale hairs or odors for Mom Hartmann to discover.

But still, it is doubtful whether the three young Hartmanns are pulling a fast one over their mother. She knows all.

Goose And Gander

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Star: The contribution to this column by Le Roy Meier in a recent issue of The Star carries its own condemnation. He says: "If the U.S. or state government will guarantee 90 per cent of my present wage for as long as I remain at my present job, then and only then will I say to give it to the farmers."

What Mr. Meier doesn't know is the fact that the job he has is wage governed on a parity basis. If the cost of living goes up, likewise up goes his salary. A mediation board will see to that. He has an eight-hour day, made so by legal enactment. He is being protected by law just the same as the farmer is being protected with the parity program. There is no guarantee of profits in either case. Parity is only a standard set by law to give the farmer a fair return for his production, compared with the costs of production. Would anybody ask for him to receive less? Even at a 90 per cent parity, the farmer must be content with a return on his production of 10 per cent below its basic cost.

Parity payments to the farmer are not unlike tariff schedules created by law in the interest of the industrialist. If we can pay the increased cost of tariffs and be happy about it, why cannot we pay the increased costs parity payments exacted from us as consumers? What is good for the goose is good for the gander. As the farmer prospers, so will labor prosper. If the farmer goes down and is unable to buy the production that the hands of labor turn out, then labor in this country will be found walking the streets and highways looking for jobs just as it did 20-odd years ago when 10 million men and women were without jobs. Is that what Mr. Meier is hankering for? Tariffs protect the industrialists from the free trade markets of the world. Parity payments protect the farmer from the same free trade markets. In each instance, consummers foot the bill.

Where Is Walton?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I noticed an article in last Sunday's edition pertaining to the candidates for commissioners. The first time I was ever at Walton was about 45 years ago. My brother-in-law was depot agent there. Some five years ago it was still in the same place, some half mile south of O Street.

Now I see by this map that some college pranksters have moved it over in District 1 north of O Street. I think these pranksters should move it back where it belongs so the people down there will have a chance to vote on county commissioner at this coming election.

These Women

There is probably not a full-aged man anywhere who has not at some time picked up a woman's slipper and felt quick, involuntary shock that any piece of footwear could have so little weight and substance.

The sight of some frail little female tripping blithely along a sub-zero sidewalk in open-toed sandals is more than the human mind can bear without protest.

Some day I'm going to take revenge by inventing a woman's shoe which could not consist of anything less and still leave a place to hang a price tag. It will be nothing but a paper-thin sole with a suction cap at the instep to hold it on. For evening wear, a six-penny nail can be added for the heel. A good sales gimmick would be a feather in each suction cap, for tickling. That way, I could advertise a bounce in every step.

A man's shoes have got some heft to them. You get a pair of them on, and you know there is something besides a prickling sensation between you and the sidewalk. What's more, there is protection for your toes from the weather—from the ice in winter and the sun in summer. The only real drawback they have in comparison, is that they are not self-draining, like so many women's shoes. You step in a puddle of water with a pair of 'em on, and you know right away where the bilge line is.

The really amazing thing about feminine foot finery is that the designers can do so much with so little. With a good sized hunk of cowhide, you can understand that there are a lot of shapes it can be worked into, but with two little straps, each maybe an eighth of an inch wide and a couple of inches long, it seems that there would be a mathematical limit to the number of combinations which could be worked out. There isn't. Not even on the prices.

Truth is, you need go no farther than the foot to discover woman's full perversity. For wear around the house, with the heating system clicking off a steady 70 degrees, the gal will invest in a pair of fur-lined, ankle-encasing slippers. Then she goes outside, threatened by blizzard, deluge and arctic air, and what happens? That's right — the leather between her and the ground is thinner than a slice of cheese in a quick-lunch joint, and the only other protection is a couple of straps that wouldn't keep a rambunctious mouse tied down for 30 seconds.

The day I'm waiting for is the one when they put high heels on women's stockings, and the gals have to depend on their bunions to keep their insteps off the ice.

Even now, the ladies are lucky that cockleburrs don't grow on living room floors.

Bedside Lapidary

The average reader probably doesn't pick up such publications as "Rocks and Minerals" or "Mineralogist" or similar publications for idle perusal, but should he chance to do so, he would find listed there the intriguing entry: "Bedside Lapidary, Curley Washechek, O'Neill, Nebraska."

Curley Washechek was a truck driver, a big brawny handsome young man filled with the zest of his trade. Then 14 years ago a bone disorder began to bother him. He consulted doctors, many of them, but his trouble was an unusual one, a medical puzzler. The malady persisted, stiffening his spine until he could no longer sit up but was forced to lie flat on his back in bed, moving only his head and arms.

It was from a friend's suggestion that the idea for a "bedside lapidary" took form and grew amazingly. He had gathered a plentiful supply of rocks from a previous trip to Oregon and so began the tedious experiment of grinding and cutting them. As his talent developed, so did his enthusiasm. His mechanical experience stood him in good stead as he rigged up a large turntable over the bed. Here he mounted his machine, cut-off saw, electric soldering machine, stone polisher, and other necessary accessories. A mirror enabled him to reach all the machines and manipulate them, but it also entailed the further complication of doing most of the work in reverse.

Gradually a few trinkets emerged from the first painful labors, and then more as self-instruction and plucky determination combined with the offerings of friends who saw to it that the craftsman was amply supplied with raw materials. Many admirers over the country began to send him material, too, as news of his courage and ability spread. Today he conducts a profitable business in exquisite jewelry of all kinds—rings, bracelets, necklaces, earrings—with a large mail-order business accumulated over the years. For variety he imports crystal pagodas, rock crystal stars, and carved articles of jade for collectors' items.

Self-pity is not his selling point. He is a man of good cheer. For the most of us who go our able-bodied way complainingly, the story of Curley Washechek has a rare inspirational ingredient. It prompts a personal pause, a setting into proper perspective again the blessings of good health, and an admiration for one who in the very finest sense is truly "master of his fate, captain of his soul."

Thanks To The Few

As the years go by the people of the United States will more and more bless that gallant minority of senators who with their backs to the wall fought effectively enough to save the atomic energy bill from becoming one of the nation's historic errors.

It is still a premature, dangerous piece of legislation, unsuited in timeliness and substance for the tremendous job that is to be done—if it is to be done wisely and justly. And there is no guarantee that its softening, coming as the result of the Senate battle, will follow through. The Senate's version must clear the barriers of joint House and Senate sharpshooting, for the House recently passed the measure more nearly in the form asked by the Eisenhower administration. It may reject the saving clauses fought into the measure in the Senate.

But the gallant minority restored the principle of anti-monopoly. It gained for public power the right of original use of atomic generation while the original measure would have reserved the great new resource to private power, and of that to the few favored or fortunate.

This alone was a tremendous service to Nebraska which is totally a public power state and was directly in the line of fire, threatened by the original intention of the measure with the role of outcast.

It is only to be regretted that Nebraska's two senators, Eva Bowring and Sam Reynolds, were not in the forefront of the fight to save Nebraska. They voted consistently with the majority.

One cannot complain of a measure now that provides opportunity both for private enterprise and for public power. It would have been as wrong to legislate against private power as it would have been to exclude public power from the age's greatest power source—a source developed at public expense, $12 billion of it, for the public welfare.

Unfortunately the Eisenhower deal that will give to the Dixon-Yates combination a special plum in the TVA area, namely, the right and probably most of the financing to build an electric generating plant whose more than 600,000 kw will wheel over TVA's lines to TVA customers, remains in the Senate bill.

This, indeed, will stand as a bad precedent, a guidepost which could lead to unending exploitation by a few well positioned private operators. It is by no means an example of free private enterprise nor an act beneficial to private enterprise in general. The definition of private enterprise does not include public financing, special fields and sure things federally granted. It spells privilege, instead, and something that private enterprise cannot prevail against.

The best that can be said of the atomic energy bill in its domestic half is that it is premature, poorly thought out and improper. Time, test and careful study are the elements needed to fit such a great, almost revolutionary, resource into the American economy.

But thanks to the clear minded, gallant minority, the Senate measure now contains some of the vital ingredients that will at least prevent the bill from becoming a calamitous measure.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

If nothing more than good clean fun, it is a lot of sport to send a play—to use football parlance—around Hyde Sweet's end, or maybe now that he has taken on a little more weight, he is playing tackle or roving guard. Noting that we had been in California, in a recent column Mr. Sweet wrote that he hoped it rained before we got back for dry weather would inspire us to go the limit in portraying the horrors of drought.

On The Wings Of A Storm

Not that it was of any importance, but we felt we should let Mr. Sweet know we came home literally in a general rainstorm. There was a cloudburst 10 miles out of Salt Lake City. Much of Utah and Wyoming had been washed clean by a generous all-night downpour. God was in His heavens and there were puddles of water in the streets at Laramie. There had been a gentle shower of short duration at Kimball and Sidney. Both North Platte and Grand Island had light drizzle. Not until we reached this section did we run out of rain, but due to a delay in time schedule we had the pleasure of looking at lightning in the skies well after the midnight hour. So by unanimous consent, we will spare Mr. Sweet the agony for at least 24 hours. We knew the old boy is a power but we had no idea that he had a working arrangement with nature to arrange for such an auspicious homecoming.

★

No foolin', little drops of water and little grains of sand make a mighty ocean and pleasant land. We're inclined to think that any quickie of California all depends on what you're looking for. We had heard a lot about new industry moving out there, and the evidence was there in front of our eyes. We had heard of huge apartment and housing developments, and just for the heck of it, the day before leaving the west coast we took a run out to the new apartment development of one of the great life insurance companies of this country. It was all they say it is and a little bit more. To appreciate it fully, one must see it because words are a pretty poor substitute to measure its magnitude.

Many Sources Of Income

We have a faint appreciation of what Mr. Sweet is talking about when he launches into rebuttal anent California's bathing beauties. And we can agree with him somewhere around 150 per cent when it comes to what he calls over-touted resort towns. If that is the sort of stuff one is investigating, o. k. But it is impossible to laugh off the varied sources of income back of the rapidly growing population gains of a state which feels that it is self-sufficient in itself, and the rest of the world can go hang. It is mighty handy to have a commercial fishing industry producing millions when drought sets in. It is fortunate to have a crop far underground, a crop running into the hundreds of millions year after year, but in its oil industry with its thousands of producing wells—and they are producing wells, not dry holes or abandoned wells—a state may rejoice over its luck when drought sets in. And a state that never receives more than five to 15 inches of rainfall a year, all of that coming at a certain period, is more than lucky when it can appropriate most of the water of neighboring states. Then there is the tourist business producing rich dividends, the amazing development of truck gardening, the citrus industry, mining, and heaven knows what. But perhaps California's greatest source of strength is that Californians are able to agree that what is best for California is good for each one of its sons and daughters. Now and then, rugged individualists that we are, it might not be a bad idea if we could agree on one or two matters as to what and how to promote Nebraska's welfare.

★

Sneer though he may, this merely is to inform Mr. Sweet that we came back again, impressed with the fact that a state which has so little water (California) can do so much with it. And her neighbors will know what we mean. Every day in every way, Californians are looking around to exploit their meager water resources—meager in terms of natural rainfall. And it pays handsomely.

Hurrah For Benson

Most all will agree that Secretary Benson's reorganization of practices in selecting precinct delegates and committeemen in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation setup is a good one.

Benson has taken away from the county ASC committee the right to dominate the nomination of precinct representatives. The responsibility has been spread to a special board consisting of ASC, county extension, soil conservation, FHA representatives plus spokesmen for the three farm organizations. Henceforth they will preside over the nominating and electing machinery.

The danger in the former method was that of self perpetuation by county committees. Such power is a temptation. And even when it is carefully avoided it is hard to convince a skeptical public that election jockeying did not take place. If there were no examples of self-seeking use of power the open possibility of it was enough to shake confidence.

Johnson Hustles Votes Among GOP

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lyndon Johnson, overwhelmingly renominated in Texas last week, has put himself in the paradoxical position of quietly going round among his Senate colleagues getting promises that they will vote for him as Senate leader next year.

On the surface this would seem strange indeed. But to insiders who watched the strained relations between the handsome Senate Democratic leader and the Democratic senators he is supposed to lead, it was not strange at all.

After Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, vice-presidential nominee in 1952 and one of the recognized national leaders of the Democratic party, indirectly complained on the Senate floor about Johnson's minus-quantity leadership last week, Lyndon was livid. First he went over to Sparkman's desk and remonstrated. Sparkman, however, didn't budge an inch.

He had stated publicly that Knowland had failed to consult with the Democrats who were really leading the Senate and he meant it. Johnson had been sitting on the sidelines and refusing to co-operate in the debate on a bill which will govern American factories and power plants in future generations.

Failing to budge Sparkman, Johnson then tried to get the Senate floor to defend his leadership. But Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota refused to yield.

"I am not going to yield for an attack on those who have been carrying on this fight," he told Johnson.

It was at this point that Johnson began making his deal with Sen. Knowland of California to end the debate.

Late next day, when Democrats heard what Lyndon was up to, it was decided to send a delegation to see him. So five Democrats approached Johnson on the Senate floor—Hill of Alabama, Anderson of New Mexico, a former member of the cabinet; Stennis of Mississippi, Gore of Tennessee and Jackson of Washington.

Johnson suggested that they come up to his office. They did so. He was courteous but cool. Hill then started to argue against Johnson's proposed statement against his fellow Democrats which they said merely played into Knowland's hands.

"You would be surprised," remarked Johnson, "at some of your Southern colleagues who plan to vote for cloture."

The five senators were certain this was not so, that no Southern senators would vote to cut off debate. (In the end only one—Holland of Florida—did.) But before they could argue much, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson brought a note in to her husband. He read it and said he would have to go back to the Senate floor at once. Johnson did not explain what the note said, but his colleagues suspected it came from GOP Leader Knowland.

For Johnson immediately delivered a speech, aimed at breaking the record atom fillibuster which Knowland had battled so hard to defeat.

Shortly after that a peculiar thing happened. As Johnson took his seat in the front row, Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, great friend of Sen. McCarthy, got up and read a speech praising Johnson and his renomination in Texas. Goldwater had his speech written out. It was not a spur-of-the-moment burst of enthusiasm.

Then Knowland followed with another tribute to Johnson. His eloquence made them appear buddies, not opponents. Then Cordon of Oregon, another Republican, paid tribute. Then all Republicans on the floor arose and applauded, following which they walked over to Johnson and shook his hand.

But the significant thing was that not a single Democrat walked over to Johnson to congratulate him.

Finally Smathers of Florida rose and reminded the Republicans that this was a Democratic victory, not a Republican one, and pointed to a Democratic trend.

Embarrassed at the lack of Democratic congratulations, Johnson walked over to the last seat near the door which senators have to pass as they exit. There he made it a point of shaking hands with Democratic senators as they departed.

That's why the versatile Lyndon is already corralling votes for fear he won't be Democratic leader when the senate comes back in January.

Many readers have asked this newsman for predictions on how individual senators will vote on Sen. McCarthy when the Flanders resolution of censure comes up this week. In brief, it can be reported that McCarthy will get the hard core of about 19 consistent supporters, most of them Republicans. There will also be about 30 Democrats definitely voting against him.

The balance of the senate largely hangs in the balance and will be partly swayed by the position of Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, hitherto a McCarthy man, but who tangled with McCarthy during the army hearings. If McClellan makes a strong statement against his former friend, a great many conservative democrats will follow him.

Meanwhile, here is the line-up of Democrats who are either planning to vote for McCarthy or are leaning toward him: Maybank, S.C.; Byrd and Robertson, Va., despite McCarthy's unfair speech about their friend, Gen. George Marshall; Lennon, N.C.; Eastland, Miss.; Johnson and Daniel of Texas. Kennedy, Mass.; Frear, Del.

Middle-of-the-road Republicans leaning toward McCarthy include: Saltonstall, Mass.; Ferguson, Mich.; Bush and Purtel, Conn.; Cordon, Ore.; Kuchel, Calif.; Martin, Pa.; Dworshak, Idaho; Carlson, Kans.; Bennett, Utah; Robertson, Hickenlooper, Iowa.

Note—Senator Knowland is going to do his best to prevent any vote at all on the Flanders resolution. He has been buttonholing senators urging them to block all debate and vote only on a motion to table the Flander resolution — despite the fact that he previoulsy gave his word to Flanders that he would permit the resolution to be voted on.

What fails under the pressure of too close and too lengthy contact is the sense of proportion and perspective. Ninety-six senators, each elected on his merits and with the right to place a high value on his own opinions, begin to assert themselves with a passion and pride generally kept in leash by maturity and the traditions of the greatest gentlemen's club in the world.

So the chips on the shoulders appear—and get knocked off. The cutting edge to a voice will give a clue to personal antagonisms hitherto concealed. It is very good theatre, which accounts for the fact that the galleries are crowded in the daytime and reluctantly empty only in the small hours of the morning.

The present filibuster bears on the atomic power contract President Eisenhower so cavalierly thrust into the situation with his order to the Atomic Energy Commission to co-operate in a project its majority had turned down. The President's action convinced a sizeable and able group of senators, including two Republicans, that TVA was in danger and that atomic power for peacetime uses would be rushed into private channels without due consideration of the public interest.

The men who have argued this case understand it and have had long experience with it. They have forced acceptance of some of their amendments, though the House-Senate conference represents a hazard to their victories. They have failed to displace the private power contract which will, if possible, be subjected to a court test. They do not have the votes to defeat the atomic legislation itself.

The filibusterers had had it last Saturday when Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson, who had been voting with them, stepped in to compromise the issue. At that point, Sen. Johnson's oil-and-water minority — which he had synthesized with great skill all during the session —separated violently into its component parts.

The filibusterers were helpless because Sen. Johnson cashed in on long association with and help to their leader, Sen. Albert Gore. Sen. Gore fought the Republican majority hard; he was not willing to draw the issue with Sen. Johnson. He respects Johnson's judgment that it was time to negotiate.

Some senators, who feel bitterly that their leader fired on his own troops and kidnaped their general, will be a long time getting over it, if ever.

Their harsh reaction will be a part of the price the senator from Texas must pay for a self-assurance which led him to plunge in Saturday against the advice of some of his friends. It was the day of his long-awaited primary and several felt he was in much too emotional a frame of mind to take so important a step.

Majority Leader Knowland also has been getting pounded, so much so that wits have suggested the filibuster against Sen. Knowland and not the atom. Actually, according to a veteran of these contests, Sen. Knowland has displayed rare generosity and forbearence beyond what could have been expected from past leaders on both sides of the aisle.

The senator from California does not, however, express himself well and he is often insensitive to the feelings of others. It is his manner, not his heart, that is at fault. Also, he is inclined to be single-minded in a job where flexibility and humor will take care of most of the obstacles.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Summertime Canine Care

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Wrtter

Do not leave your dog in the car, even with the car windows down, in the hot weather.

That is the advice of Erich Hartmann of 1629 So. 48th, a dog owner himself.

"The hot sun will cause the dog to suffocate," he says.

He knows of two dogs that have died because of such treatment.

Hartmann recalls hearing a story of a man back east who saw a dog locked up in a car one hot day. The man, evidently a dog lover, broke all the windows on the car to give the poor dog a little more fresh cool air.

The postal employee raises dachshunds, a dog with short hair, which can take more heat than some other long-haired dogs. But Hartman just the same is careful of his dogs in the summer time.

Hartman suggests that if your dog is suffering from a heat stroke, dampen the basement floor with water and allow the dog to stay there.

Just now Erich has two ten-weeks-old dachshunds called "Little Mouse" and "Donnie Von Christine" who delight in escaping with little one-and-a-half-year-old Audrey Hartmann's yellow bunny.

Little Audrey will give a squeal of disapproval, but the young scamps will continue to sink their tiny but sharp teeth into the cloth toy.

The two puppies are sometimes on the other end of an antic when little Audrey grabs hold of their tails. This time the squeal comes from the pups.

'ELLA VON MORRIS' AND AUDREY HARTMANN
. . . a perpetual game of tug-o'war . . .

Ella can proudly toss her head when she goes into the living room of the Hartmanns, because there is a shining trophy where the dog placed "best of show" at the Omaha puppy match.

Ella also has other ribbons and cups for her sleek but elongated form.

Each of the dogs has a warm place to sleep at least the first part of the night. For when Alfred, 10, Ronald, 7, and Audrey Hartmann make ready for bed, each of them slips a dog into bed with him. The odorless dogs that do not shed, leave no telltale hairs or odors for Mom Hartmann to discover.

But still, it is doubtful whether the three young Hartmanns are pulling a fast one over their mother. She knows all.

Goose And Gander

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Star: The contribution to this column by Le Roy Meier in a recent issue of The Star carries its own condemnation. He says: "If the U.S. or state government will guarantee 90 per cent of my present wage for as long as I remain at my present job, then and only then will I say to give it to the farmers."

What Mr. Meier doesn't know is the fact that the job he has is wage governed on a parity basis. If the cost of living goes up, likewise up goes his salary. A mediation board will see to that. He has an eight-hour day, made so by legal enactment. He is being protected by law just the same as the farmer is being protected with the parity program. There is no guarantee of profits in either case. Parity is only a standard set by law to give the farmer a fair return for his production, compared with the costs of production. Would anybody ask for him to receive less? Even at a 90 per cent parity, the farmer must be content with a return on his production of 10 per cent below its basic cost.

Parity payments to the farmer are not unlike tariff schedules created by law in the interest of the industrialist. If we can pay the increased cost of tariffs and be happy about it, why cannot we pay the increased costs parity payments exacted from us as consumers? What is good for the goose is good for the gander. As the farmer prospers, so will labor prosper. If the farmer goes down and is unable to buy the production that the hands of labor turn out, then labor in this country will be found walking the streets and highways looking for jobs just as it did 20-odd years ago when 10 million men and women were without jobs. Is that what Mr. Meier is hankering for? Tariffs protect the industrialists from the free trade markets of the world. Parity payments protect the farmer from the same free trade markets. In each instance, consummers foot the bill.

Where Is Walton?

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I noticed an article in last Sunday's edition pertaining to the candidates for commissioners. The first time I was ever at Walton was about 45 years ago. My brother-in-law was depot agent there. Some five years ago it was still in the same place, some half mile south of O Street.

Now I see by this map that some college pranksters have moved it over in District 1 north of O Street. I think these pranksters should move it back where it belongs so the people down there will have a chance to vote on county commissioner at this coming election.

These Women

There is probably not a full-aged man anywhere who has not at some time picked up a woman's slipper and felt quick, involuntary shock that any piece of footwear could have so little weight and substance.

The sight of some frail little female tripping blithely along a sub-zero sidewalk in open-toed sandals is more than the human mind can bear without protest.

Some day I'm going to take revenge by inventing a woman's shoe which could not consist of anything less and still leave a place to hang a price tag. It will be nothing but a paper-thin sole with a suction cap at the instep to hold it on. For evening wear, a six-penny nail can be added for the heel. A good sales gimmick would be a feather in each suction cap, for tickling. That way, I could advertise a bounce in every step.

A man's shoes have got some heft to them. You get a pair of them on, and you know there is something besides a prickling sensation between you and the sidewalk. What's more, there is protection for your toes from the weather—from the ice in winter and the sun in summer. The only real drawback they have in comparison, is that they are not self-draining, like so many women's shoes. You step in a puddle of water with a pair of 'em on, and you know right away where the bilge line is.

The really amazing thing about feminine foot finery is that the designers can do so much with so little. With a good sized hunk of cowhide, you can understand that there are a lot of shapes it can be worked into, but with two little straps, each maybe an eighth of an inch wide and a couple of inches long, it seems that there would be a mathematical limit to the number of combinations which could be worked out. There isn't. Not even on the prices.

Truth is, you need go no farther than the foot to discover woman's full perversity. For wear around the house, with the heating system clicking off a steady 70 degrees, the gal will invest in a pair of fur-lined, ankle-encasing slippers. Then she goes outside, threatened by blizzard, deluge and arctic air, and what happens? That's right — the leather between her and the ground is thinner than a slice of cheese in a quick-lunch joint, and the only other protection is a couple of straps that wouldn't keep a rambunctious mouse tied down for 30 seconds.

The day I'm waiting for is the one when they put high heels on women's stockings, and the gals have to depend on their bunions to keep their insteps off the ice.

Even now, the ladies are lucky that cockleburrs don't grow on living room floors.

5 Stations To Handle Activities

Storage of frozen semen for the production of test tube calves, a new look at silos and silage, the fighting of farm flies, progress in pasture experiments and a progress report on the comparison of feeding milk or milk replacement feeds to dairy calves.

These are the subjects to be discussed at the 1954 Dairy Field Day, Thursday, at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, says Dr. Phillip Kelly, chairman of the dairy husbandry department.

Five stations will be set up on the Ag College campus where talks or demonstrations will be given on these subjects on the hour and every half hour, starting at 10 a m. Thursday.

To Explain Process

Dr. A. B Schultze, associate professor of dairy husbandry, and Reuben Peterson, manager of the Nebraska Dairy Breeders Association, will be on hand at one of the stations to explain points to consider in artificial breeding and the process of freezing and keeping semen over a period of time in low temperature storage.

Techniques used in freezing semen will be shown as well as the possibilities of using this type of storage. It is not widely used now, Schultze says, because these techniques have not been perfected to the point where results are satisfactory.

Dairymen at the college will have about 20 kinds of roughages on display consisting of grass silage, sorghum and corn silage as well as samples of alfalfa hay that has been harvested by differing methods.

To View New Silo

A new experimental horizontal silo, recently constructed at the college dairy barns to study its advantages and limitations, will be shown to the public

Various insecticides that have been used in the University barns and calf sheds to kill flies will be presented. Also available for inspection will be a display of space sprays and poison baits used for killing these pests as well as the equipment used for spraying animals, barns and field crops.

Ten experimental pasture plots will be shown at one station showing which combinations of legumes and grasses best survive a year of no irrigation. These plots were irrigated last year but not this season.

Three groups of calves that are being fed fluid milk, dried non-fat milk and milk replacement feed will be shown. These calf feeding experiments are designed to indicate whether a dairyman can raise calves cheaper by selling his whole milk and feeding his calves other feed or by feeding some of the milk to the calves

Moore To Speak

Dr. L. A. Moore, with the USDA at Beltsville, Md., and president of the American Dairy Science Association will talk on the "Imperatives of Modern Dairy Cattle Feeding" during the afternoon program.

Dr. Clifford Hardin, University chancellor, will also appear on the program.

A special morning program has been planned for homemakers attending the field day, highlighted by a talk on how to "Keep Cool" by Jack Meyer, electrical consultant with the Eastern Nebraska Rural Public Power District, at Syracuse.

Soil Conservation Wins Out In 'Buckskin Hills'

Waterways And Legumes Bring About 'Show Place'

Lincoln Star Special

WAKEFIELD, Neb.—The venerable "buckskin hills" of northeastern Nebraska appear to be meeting their match in the form of scientific farming and good soil conservation practices.

Waldo H. Rodene, work unit conservationist at Wakefield, announced that a real "show place" has been established in the badly-eroded hills area. The "buckskin hills" is a descriptive term for the region of land which is easily eroded and hilly. The name is derived from the texture of the ground after the topsoil has been eroded off.

As the "buckskin" areas grew larger, the productivity of the land went down. But proof that the area can be brought back to profitable operation, came with a demonstration project started in 1952.

Joseph Alexis, University of Nebraska faculty member who owns a farm north of Emerson, Neb., offered to place his farm under a complete conservation program. Two miles of terraces and five acres of waterways and turn rows were established in 1952, and 20 acres were seeded to alfalfa. About $1,000 was spent for fertilizer and seed. As a result, corn yielded about 50 bushels per acre the first year, compared with 15 on untreated land. Oats yields were doubled.

In 1953 more terraces and waterways were added, and 15 acres were seeded to brome and alfalfa. Corn yielded 45 bushels, oats 20 and beans 20 bushels per acre. The first cutting of alfalfa totaled one ton per acre. The program has been carried out by William Steinman and sons who operate the farm.

Today all the erosion which formerly marked the farm is gone, and the surface of the ground has been healed and returned to productivity. Several tours have been held on the farm, and hundreds of others have visited the quarter in recent months. On Sept. 11 all eighth graders of Dixon County will spend half a day on the farm to observe the soil and water conservation practices.

House Passes $5 Billion Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 to finance the foreign aid program through June 30, 1955, was passed by the House Wednesday on a 266-128 roll call vote.

The House approved $2,895,944,000 in new cash and $2,312,475,979 to be drawn from carryover funds appropriated in previous years. This is $812,213,554 less than President Eisenhower requested for the current 12 months.

Now the measure goes to the Senate, where it will join a bill authorizing the expenditure of $3,100,000,000 in new money for foreign aid during the current fiscal year.

Senate Starts Debate

Senate debate on the authorization measure, which does not deal with old, unobligated funds, began Wednesday. After the authorization bill is passed, separate legislation is necessary to appropriate the old and new money.

Foreign aid is designed to strengthen allies of the United States against the threat of Communist aggression. Most of it goes for direct military assistance, aircraft, tanks and other weapons, but a portion is invested in building up the economies of friendly nations.

Democrats gave the greatest support to the bill on final House passage, 144 voting for it, together with 121 Republicans and one Independent. Opposing it were 85 Republicans and 43 Democrats.

Changes Defeated

In seven hours of debate Tuesday, every effort to change the aid Appropriations Committee was defeated.

The bill allots 712 million dollars in new cash for defense aid in Southeast Asia, a reduction of 83 million from Eisenhower's figure.

For special economic assistance, it provides 115 million of the 130 million requested for the Near East and Africa, 60½ of the 85 million asked for India, and the entire nine million requested for American republics.

'Anti-Red Program'

Starting off the Senate debate Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Foreign Relations Committee said the $3,100,000,000 authorization measure embodies "probably the single most anti-Communist program we have before the Congress year after year."

He told the Senate that besides arming friends overseas to help discourage aggression, the program has built confidence among America's Allies which has enabled them to develop into customers on their own.

At the same time, he said, it has helped keep the American economy strong and maintained arms building capacity.

Nebraskans Against

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska's four Congressmen were all in the opposition Wednesday as the House passed the bill. Reps. Hruska, Harrison and Miller all voted against the appropriation and Rep. Curtis, in Nebraska campaigning for the Senate, was paired against the measure. All are Republicans.

Mayor Clark Jeary Scores Bulls Eye

CAMP CARSON, Colo.—Lincoln's Mayor Clark Jeary showed Nebraska reservists of the 89th Division training here how to operate on the rifle range. The mayor scored a bulls eye when he tried his eye and hand with the rifle.

F. H. Price of Newman Grove also scored a bulls eye.

The men were part of a group of business, government and education leaders who visited the Nebraska units.

Others who fired were the Very Rev. Carl M. Reinert, president of Creighton University, and Trev Gillespie, vice president of the Woodman Accident Company of Lincoln.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

Naturally I do not know all about Eve. (I am speaking of the original model of course. Mrs. Adam).

The fact that a fast-talking snake can sell a bill of apples to a lady is not news to me. I am happy to report, however, that a deal of major knowledge has been added through the years. Ladies being a fascinating study to poets, advertising men, and taxi drivers as well as a number of bird watchers.

Therefor it is a civic duty, as well as a pleasure, to add some personal observations.

Ladies are often examined by organizations. The American Society of Magazine Photographers. Association of dress designers, ably aided and abetted by their press agents.

These societies pick out best dressed Women of the Year. They pick out Miss Tomato Ketchup of 1954. They elect the Girl I Would Most Like to Put Sugar On My Pancakes.

They pick out composite ladies. Jane Russell's chassis surmounted by Ava Gardner's chin and Lana Turner's eyes. And so on.

It is really too bad we cannot actually unhinge these perfections from all these ladies. And actually put a perfect lady together. Like a meccano set.

I am surprised these disconnected ladies do not sue. They have reason.

"My eyes, my eye," they could say. "What's the matter with the hipline?"

They will not, though. In these studies of Eve, it is necessary to consider that applesauce is more potent than the apple.

If you speak highly of a lady's eyes, it is not necessary to mention the rest of the model. She will take it for granted and only suppose that you are shyly tongue-tied.

☆ ☆ ☆

Composing perfect women seems to be a completely American custom. Like Thanksgiving. Or fish fries and hush puppies.

Europeans seldom go about composing more perfection that is already perfected. However, their scientists keep a wary eye upon Eve. Possibly because the subject is highly unpredictable. Like dynamite in cold weather.

The National Center of Scientific Research at Paris polled the ladies of France. It found that 77 per cent pick up the husband's paycheck.

They also found that 12 per cent, after two years of married life, find their husbands are not the Casanovas they expected when they said "I do."

Fifty-two per cent of French ladies wash dishes. And 35 per cent require husbands to dry them. However, 92 per cent ask their husbands who to vote for. (I do not consider this proves anything. With French politics I would ask somebody myself.)

London scientists went into a soul struggle with a gadget that seems highly unlikely to me. An "Ironing Recorder."

Quick and careless ironing means an erratic personality Going back over the same cloth means an erratic personality. thought it meant the iron wasn't hot enough. But no.)

These things seem useless to me. Like measuring the wind. What do I care how many times my shirt collar is ironed?

The thing to do is sit around until they burn their finger. And when the language from the other room begins to smoke, turn quietly and remark:

"Madame, you have the most perfect eyes in America."

Dawson Oil Field Yields New Well

DAWSON, Neb. (AP)—A new well in the Viola limestone has been brought in by O. C. Wallace, Maryville, Mo., and associates on the Nebraska State Bank lease in the Dawson field.

The well had a 1,600-foot fill-up overnight. Pumping equipment and tanks are being moved to the location and pumping operations are expected to begin next week.

The new producer is about a half-mile south of the recent Viola well brought in by J. E. Palensky and Sons, now under a pumping test.

The Palensky Company has announced that its Hunton wildcat test on the Dr. W. R. Boose land, south of Rulo, has been abandoned as a dry hole.

STAN DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

Naturally I do not know all about Eve. (I am speaking of the original model of course. Mrs. Adam).

The fact that a fast-talking snake can sell a bill of apples to a lady is not news to me. I am happy to report, however, that a deal of major knowledge has been added through the years. Ladies being a fascinating study to poets, advertising men, and taxi drivers as well as a number of bird watchers.

Therefor it is a civic duty, as well as a pleasure, to add some personal observations.

Ladies are often examined by organizations. The American Society of Magazine Photographers. Association of dress designers, ably aided and abetted by their press agents.

These societies pick out best dressed Women of the Year. They pick out Miss Tomato Ketchup of 1954. They elect the Girl I Would Most Like to Put Sugar On My Pancakes.

They pick out composite ladies. Jane Russell's chassis surmounted by Ava Gardner's chin and Lana Turner's eyes. And so on.

It is really too bad we cannot actually unhinge these perfections from all these ladies. And actually put a perfect lady together. Like a meccano set.

I am surprised these disconnected ladies do not sue. They have reason.

"My eyes, my eye," they could say. "What's the matter with the hipline?"

They will not, though. In these studies of Eve, it is necessary to consider that applesauce is more potent than the apple.

If you speak highly of a lady's eyes, it is not necessary to mention the rest of the model. She will take it for granted and only suppose that you are shyly tongue-tied.

Composing perfect women seems to be a completely American custom. Like Thanksgiving. Or fish fries and hush puppies.

Europeans seldom go about composing more perfection that is already perfected. However, their scientists keep a wary eye upon Eve. Possibly because the subject is highly unpredictable. Like dynamite in cold weather.

The National Center of Scientific Research at Paris polled the ladies of France. It found that 77 per cent pick up the husband's paycheck.

They also found that 12 per cent, after two years of married life, find their husbands are not the Casanovas they expected when they said "I do."

Fifty-two per cent of French ladies wash dishes. And 35 per cent require husbands to dry them. However, 92 per cent ask their husbands who to vote for. (I do not consider this proves anything. With French politics I would ask somebody myself.)

☆ ☆ ☆

London scientists went into a soul struggle with a gadget that seems highly unlikely to me. An "Ironing Recorder."

Quick and careless ironing means an erratic personality Going back over the same cloth means an erratic personality. thought it meant the iron wasn't hot enough. But no.)

These things seem useless to me. Like measuring the wind. What do I care how many times my shirt collar is ironed?

The thing to do is sit around until they burn their finger. And when the language from the other room begins to smoke, turn quietly and remark:

"Madame, you have the most perfect eyes in America."

Dawson Oil Field Yields New Well

DAWSON, Neb. (AP)—A new well in the Viola limestone has been brought in by O. C. Wallace, Maryville, Mo., and associates on the Nebraska State Bank lease in the Dawson field.

The well had a 1,600-foot fill-up overnight. Pumping equipment and tanks are being moved to the location and pumping operations are expected to begin next week.

The new producer is about a half-mile south of the recent Viola well brought in by J. E. Palensky and Sons, now under a pumping test.

The Palensky Company has announced that its Hunton wildcat test on the Dr. W. R. Boose land, south of Rulo, has been abandoned as a dry hole.

County Budget Reserve Questioned

What should be the amount in reserve carried by the Lancaster County budget for the various funds?

Appearing at the public hearing on the budget Tuesday L. E. Aylsworth, retired University of Nebraska professor, questioned the need "in these times" for the $671,674.43 proposed for reserve in view of the nearly $1.5 million in cash on hand.

Budget Authority J. B. Morgan, County clerk, pointing out statutes allow the carrying of a reserve equal to 50 per cent of the previous' year's expenditures, defended the "conservative" wisdom of such a figure.

6 Months on Old Revenue

Morgan said that effects from a reduction in the reserves would probably not be felt for two years, but would then necessitate the raising of the county's mill-levy.

He explained the county must operate nearly six months on old revenue before tax dollars for the new fiscal year come in.

Commisisoners pointed out that only a token reserve of $25,000 is carried in each of the bridge and highway funds, but that the greatest portion of these funds come from miscellaneous revenue, other than that raised by county taxation.

Commissioner Chauncey Barney, while questioning a blanket reduction from the 50 per cent figure, said the board could study the advisability of adjusting reserves for individual funds.

"Experience Data"

He cited, for example, that the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief fund probably needs a "full reserve" but that perhaps the General fund reserve could be reduced in view of the substantial amount of cash on hand there.

The medical fund should stay at full reserve until "experience data" can be obtained in requirements for over-ceiling medical payments in old-age assistance cases, he said.

"I'm ont criticizing the state," said Board Chairman Russell Brehm, "but if the burden of medical assistance had not been shifted to the counties, Lancaster County would have been able to lower this year's total levy to nearly 2 mills from the 3.997 for last year."

Brehm pointed out the county's levy has been decreasing: 4.846 in 1951; 4.5 in 1952, and 3.997 in 1953.

The state levy had been increasing until 1953, when medical assistance was shifted to the county, Brehm said. Only the state and the county took less of the tax dollar in 1953 as compared with the two previous years, while the amounts taken by Lincoln, school district, and sanitary district have increased.

Brehm pointed out the absorption by the county of the medical burden without increasing the mill levy is a problem. The $300,000 medical fund itself, plus revenues, as proposed would require a 1.7 mill-levy.

Brehm said the board has a lot of budget study to do before determining the mill-levy, but would attempt to "hold the line" somewhere around last year's 3.997 mills.

Uehling Described As 'Progressive' At Rail Plan Hearing

W. W. (Bill) Spear of Fremont, representing townsfolk at Uehling, gave that description of the town during arguments for a rehearing or reconsideration of the commission's recent 2-1 decision permitting the Burlington railroad to substitute a custodian for the railroad agent at Uehling.

Request Studied

Spear was joined in his plea by C. O. Griffith of St. Louis, representing the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. Walter P. Loomis of Omaha represented the Burlington.

The commission took the request under advisement.

Spear mentioned increased use of fertilizer in the area, and shipping needs involved, as one of the reasons not to curtail railroad service.

He said he was confident the Supreme Court would uphold the Railway Commission were it to deny the railroad's application in this case.

County Budget Reserve Questioned

What should be the amount in reserve carried by the Lancaster County budget for the various funds?

Appearing at the public hearing on the budget Tuesday L. E. Aylsworth, retired University of Nebraska professor, questioned the need "in these times" for the $671,674.43 proposed for reserve in view of the nearly $1.5 million in cash on hand.

Budget Authority J. B. Morgan, County clerk, pointing out statutes allow the carrying of a reserve equal to 50 per cent of the previous' year's expenditures, defended the "conservative" wisdom of such a figure.

6 Months on Old Revenue

Morgan said that effects from a reduction in the reserves would probably not be felt for two years, but would then necessitate the raising of the county's mill-levy.

He explained the county must operate nearly six months on old revenue before tax dollars for the new fiscal year come in.

Commisisoners pointed out that only a token reserve of $25,000 is carried in each of the bridge and highway funds, but that the greatest portion of these funds come from miscellaneous revenue, other than that raised by county taxation.

Commissioner Chauncey Barney, while questioning a blanket reduction from the 50 per cent figure, said the board could study the advisability of adjusting reserves for individual funds.

"Experience Data"

He cited, for example, that the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief fund probably needs a "full reserve" but that perhaps the General fund reserve could be reduced in view of the substantial amount of cash on hand there.

The medical fund should stay at full reserve until "experience data" can be obtained in requirements for over-ceiling medical payments in old-age assistance cases, he said.

"I'm ont criticizing the state," said Board Chairman Russell Brehm, "but if the burden of medical assistance had not been shifted to the counties, Lancaster County would have been able to lower this year's total levy to nearly 2 mills from the 3.997 for last year."

Brehm pointed out the county's levy has been decreasing: 4.846 in 1951; 4.5 in 1952, and 3.997 in 1953.

The state levy had been increasing until 1953, when medical assistance was shifted to the county, Brehm said. Only the state and the county took less of the tax dollar in 1953 as compared with the two previous years, while the amounts taken by Lincoln, school district, and sanitary district have increased.

Brehm pointed out the absorption by the county of the medical burden without increasing the mill levy is a problem. The $300,000 medical fund itself, plus revenues, as proposed would require a 1.7 mill-levy.

Brehm said the board has a lot of budget study to do before determining the mill-levy, but would attempt to "hold the line" somewhere around last year's 3.997 mills.

Uehling Described As 'Progressive' At Rail Plan Hearing

Uehling, Neb., is a "progressive" town, one of the "richest in Nebraska," and scene of increasing business activity, the State Railway Commission was told.

W. W. (Bill) Spear of Fremont, representing townsfolk at Uehling, gave that description of the town during arguments for a rehearing or reconsideration of the commission's recent 2-1 decision permitting the Burlington railroad to substitute a custodian for the railroad agent at Uehling.

Request Studied

Spear was joined in his plea by C. O. Griffith of St. Louis, representing the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. Walter P. Loomis of Omaha represented the Burlington.

The commission took the request under advisement.

Spear mentioned increased use of fertilizer in the area, and shipping needs involved, as one of the reasons not to curtail railroad service.

He said he was confident the Supreme Court would uphold the Railway Commission were it to deny the railroad's application in this case.

McClellan Opponent Delays Conceding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark) as apparently won a third term nomination in a close primary fight with former Gov. Sid McMath, although the latter wants to see the certified results of the election before conceding.

McClellan, who was the senior Democrat on the Senate's Army-McCarthy investigating group, claimed victory when he had an unofficial margin of 4,421 votes over the combined vote of three opponents, with only 25 of the state's 2,302 precincts unreported.

He is the sixth southern Democrat to win renomination in seven states this year. Sen Alton Lennon was defeated May 29 in North Carolina by former Gov. Kerr Scott.

Last to win in the group was Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) who coasted to a fourth term nomination in his state's primary Tuesday, the same day Arkansas Democrats voted.

Ellis Resigns

An off-shoot of the Louisiana voting was the resignation yesterday of Frank B. Ellis, of New Orleans, as Democratic National Committeeman for that state.

Saying he will continue to work for the Democratic party, Ellis explained he was quitting because his law practice has been too long neglected.

There were no defeats of House incumbnts in either Arkansas or Louisiana.

Gov. Francis Cherry of Arkansas was forced into a runoff for renomination to a second term with his nearest competitor, Orval Faubus, weekly newspaper publisher.

Gary Asks Unity

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Raymond Gary, the runoff winner over William O. Coe for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Oklahoma, acted Wednesday in an attempt to close party ranks for the November general election.

Gary, who beat Coe by an unofficial vote of 251,133 to 233,812 based on returns from 3,150 of the state's 3,154 precincts, faces Republican Rueben K. Sparks Nov. 2. Sparks won nomination in the first primary July 6.

"Rally with me this fall," Gary said, appealing to Coe supporters

Lincolnite Fined $25 On Charge Of 'Injuring' Building

Arthur Dean Miers, 35, of 2305 E, pleaded guilty in Lancaster County Court to malicious injury to a building and was fined $25.

Dep. Co. Atty. Rollin Bailey said Miers had jerked a lavatory loose from the wall and broke a water pipe.

The water seeped through the ceiling and flooded a downstairs bedroom and kitchen of Miers' landlord, Mark W. Sheffert, to a depth of one inch, Bailey said.

Miers admitted he had been drinking and had had an argument with his wife just before the incident, which was caused "by my bad temper."

Strauss Medium-Price Home Plat Gets Preliminary Okay

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The City Planning Commission has approved a preliminary plat by Strauss Bros. Construction Co. for the building of some 96 medium priced single family homes southwest of 70th and Vine.

The Commission was informed by James Strauss that construction in the new sub-division would start just as soon as final platting was completed. Strauss stated the homes, all for sale, would be in the $8,000 to $10,000 price range.

In addition to the 96 plat area, Strauss stated he also had ownership of an additional 70 acres to the east which he also planned to develop. The 96 tract plat covers 25 acres.

Several Tracts

The Strauss firm has developed several large home tracts in Havelock involving hundreds of homes and a large plat of some 600 homes in Eastridge Addition east of Cotner Blvd.

City Planning Engineer Thomas Wellman stated that under the city's new sub-division ordinance the Strauss plat will automatically come within the city limits when it is given final approval. The plat is big enough, he said, to warrant the extension of utilities into it.

The new plat shows 70th as an 80 foot street. It is planned, Wellman said, that 70th will someday be a major north-south arterial.

Other Action

In other action, the Commission approved the previously controversial application of Consumer's Public Power District for a permit to erect an electrical sub-station about 150 feet back from 33rd between Apple and Y. The construction was objected to by adjoining property owners when Consumer's sought a change of zoning before the City Council to permit the construction.

In other action the Commission:

Approved the vacation of the L shaped alley east of '0th and north and parellel to Calvert.

Denied the re-plat by Cornell and Sampson of two lots at 55th and J

Federal Count Against Pen Inmate Dismissed

The indictment alleged on four counts that Sheperd transported forged checks, totalling $170, in interstate commerce from Nebraska to Washington. Sheperd is formerly of Chadron.

Pays For Death Gas

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — Salustian Collado, 22, a servant, committed suicied by inhaling cooking gas. She left the landlord an envelope containing $2.50 and a note explaining the money was for the gas consumed.

Vietminh Pitch In, Help French Clear Road Mines

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—A French patrol got unexpected help Wednesday in clearing road mines near Trung Ha, 35 miles northwest of Hanoi. Soldiers of the Communist-led Vietminh pitched in and worked with them.

Throughout the Red River Delta, French and Vietnamese pulled back from their outposts toward Hanoi in accordance with the cease-fire which began in North Viet Nam Tuesday. At several points, Vietminh commanders went up to the posts and quietly watched the withdrawal.

Vietminh Eager

The Vietminh generally appeared eager to speed the parting French Union military, with whom they fought an exhausting jungle and rice paddy war for nearly eight years. They took a much more active interest in anti-Communist Vietnamese civilians trying to quit the Delta with the French before it falls fully under Vietminh in another 10 months.

A French briefing officer said Vietminh supporters had tried to block evacuating civilians at Phu Lang Thuong, 30 miles northeast of Hanoi. They put up roadblocks and tried to cajole, argue, or scare the civilians into staying behind, the officer said. No physical violence or casualties were reported.

Loudspeakers Used

At Dong Trieu, 20 miles northwest of Haiphong, Vietminh supporters tried to persuade Vietnamese soldiers also to stay. To emphasize their appeal, the Vietminh put up loudspeakers on street corners and proclaimed there would be no reprisals against any who chose to remain after the French withdrew.

A French civilian source said Vietnamese officials themselves were endangering the evacuation of civilians by a bitter dispute over how it should be done. One group, headed by Hanoi Mayor Do qunag Gini, was described as cooperating with the French proposal to evacuate without cost all civilians who want to leave North Viet Nam. The other group, headed by North Viet Nam's three-man governing committee, was said to be spurning the offer, saying any French help would be a political liability to the cause of Vietnamese nationalism.

Appeal Of Assault Convictions Filed In Supreme Court

Attorneys for three men convicted of assault and battery on a former Neligh policeman filed in state supreme court a brief in support of their appeal from an Antelope County district court sentence in the case.

The original defendants, Lloyd Salyers Jr., Gerald Godkin and Wilfred L. Salyers, were charged with beating up C. R. Swint, policeman, on May 15, 1953, on the outskirts of Neligh.

In the high court brief, attorneys contend that the charges against Lloyd and Wilfred Salyers should have been dismissed. There is "not sufficient evidence against them to justify their conviction and confinement," the brief said.

The supreme court was asked to dismiss the case against the two Salyers, and was asked on behalf of all three defendants to reduce the jail sentences.

1954 State Fair Premium Money Totals $65,240

Total premium money at the 1954 Nebraska State Fair, Sept. 5-10, will amount to $65,240, according to Fair Board Secretary Ed Schultz.

Biggest single amount—$16,076—has been alloted to the beef cattle classes, Schultz said. This amount includes the cash premiums to be awarded in the Cornhusker Centennial National Hereford show.

Other major premium totals include: Swine, $11,362; dairy cattle $8,155; sheep $3,327; and and farm products, $6,105.

In the 4-H Club Show, a maximum of $12,000 will be awarded. The FFA Show has been alloted a maximum of $2,500.

Schultz pointed out that the cash premiums are in addition to ribbons and trophies, and the many special merchandise awards that will be made in many classes.

Mid-Summer Wedding

MRS. HAROLD LEE DAVIS

At a late afternoon ceremony solemnized on Sunday, July 25, Miss Barbara Jane Wahlstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Wahlstrom of Oakland, became the bride of Harold Lee Davis of Omaha, son of Mrs. Fern Davis of Craig. Arrangements of all-white summer blossoms and woodwardia appointed the chancel of the First Lutheran Church at Oakland for the wedding, and lighted white candles caught with bows of blue malines marked the pews of the processional aisle.

The 4 o'clock service was read by the Rev. Gilbert R. Brown, and Mrs. Glenn Anderson, organist, and Miss Donna Johanson, pianist, played the wedding music. Mrs. Anderson and Miss Johanson also accompanied Donald Wallerstedt, the vocal soloist.

Wearing identical ensembles of white silk taffeta fashioned with fitted basques and full, waltz-length skirts were Mrs. Robert Price of Craig, as the matron of honor. Miss Jerris Ann Harmon of Lincoln, bridesmaid, and Miss Cynthia Gregersen of Atlantic, Ia., the junior bridesmaid. They wore short white gloves and carried bouquets of white and blue-tinted Esther Reed daisies.

Lighting the candles were Miss Norma Westcott of Holdrege, and Miss Ardyth Smith of Plainview, and the ringbearers were Robert Wahlstrom and Richard Wahlstrom.

Robert Davis of South Sioux City served as best man, and seating the guests were Dr. Richard C. Wahlstrom of Brookings, S. D., Leland N. Wahlstrom of Gering, James W. Davis and Jerry D. Davis both of Craig.

The bride designed and made her colonial gown of embroidered organza and Swiss organdy. Patterned in a floral motif, the molded bodice was accented by a decollete neckline and the brief sleeves were completed by long mitts of the organza. The skirt of organdy was gathered into fullness beneath petal panels of the embroidered organza, and a Victorian coronet of organdy leaves dotted with pearls and sequins held her French illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis.

A reception for 275 guests was held in the church parlors. Following their return from a northern wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside at Elkhorn.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and Mr. Davis is a former student at Wayne State Teachers College.

PTA Plans April Convention

Mrs. Rex Butler of Lincoln was named chairman of the 1953 annual convention of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the state PTA executive board held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Dr. Galen Saylor, president of the Nebraska PTA, announced that the convention will be held at Kearney next April 19 to 22, and convention committee members assisting Mrs. Butler, corresponding secretary for the state organization, will be Mrs. Dale Elmore of Nebraska City and Mrs. Robert Martin of Kearney.

Included among the convention speakers will be Mrs. Newton P. Leonard of Providence, R.I., national president of Parents and Teachers.

Announcement also was made Tuesday that Mrs. Lowell Wilks of Scottsbluff, second vice president, will represent the Nebraska PTA at a congress for state PTA extension leaders in Chicago, Sept. 21 to 22.

The regular fall meeting of the Nebraska PTA board will be held in Omaha, Oct. 26 and 27, when the annual Family Life Conference sponsored by the Omaha PTA Council, the Board of Education and Omaha University will feature as speakers Dr. Harry Overstreet and his wife, Dr. Bonaro Overstreet, nationally known psychologists and authors.

Eastman Kodak Stores, INC. 1221 "O" Street

What you pay for a camera depends on what you want it to do.

Many of us today want Kodachrome slides. They are so real and colorful . . . they take you back so much more vividly to those high-spots of your vacation or fun with the family. You can view them by yourself, project them for family and friends, or even make up a show for your club or school. And you can get wonderful color prints and enlargements from your slides.

Now, there are a lot of cameras in all price classes which take Kodachrome Film . . . but . . . IF you want pictures you can always show with pride to your friends . . . IF you are interested in the finest color pictures . . . AND black-and-white negatives you can blow up BIG . . . then the camera for you is the Kodak Signet 35.

Maybe at $87.50 it costs more than you have mentally set aside for a camera. Or, if you have been aiming high, it may be a whole lot less. The important thing is that with the Signet you get so MUCH camera per dollar.

What's more, you don't have to be a photographic genius or anything like that to recognize the outstanding qualities of this camera. The first thing you will notice when you pick it up is the fact that it seems to fit naturally in your hands. It's just the right size and shape, just the right weight.

Then you'll begin to discover why so many people, including the experts, have been heaping such praise on it. Take the focusing ring, for instance. It turns so smoothly, it almost seems to float—yet it is not loose. There is no play. It stays where you put it for two reasons. First, every part is precisely machined. Second, the focusing ring rotates on fifty ball bearings. And the whole camera is made that precise way, from the extremely accurate rangefinder to the track on which the film runs. The rangefinder is a marvel of precision construction, coupled to the lens for accurate focusing from 2 feet to infinity. Spring-loaded V bearings take up any wear to keep it accurate for life. Rangefinding and viewing are combined in one eyepiece for speed and convenience. In the film track, the clearance between the pressure plate, which holds the film flat, and the film guides is exactly the thickness of the film itself. There is no drag; you can advance the film with a flick of the thumb, yet it is held perfectly flat so that every part of the film is in exact focus.

Naturally, to do justice to a camera as mechanically precise as the Signet, only the finest lens obtainable would do. That meant a Kodak Ektar f/3.5 Lens Lumenized and color corrected . . . with the smoothest shutter you can imagine and with accurate speeds up to 1/300 second for action shots . . . synchronized for flash, of course.

But what does all this precision mean? That's the $87.50 question. It means the Signet can deliver the sharpest, the cleanest, the most brilliant negatives or color slides you have ever seen. And, if you are a beginner, you can rely on the red markings (average settings are marked in red to make it easy for you). You'll find such pictures as easy to shoot as ABC.

If you are in the market for a camera or if the wish for one is just a gleam in your eye, drop in and let us tell you the whole story of this outstanding camera. Hold it in your hands . . . and if you find when you walk out that you can't bear to leave it behind you . . . and you don't have $87.50 in your wallet . . . let us arrange credit terms for you. Just ask us to show you the Kodak Signet 35. Our guess is, you would be willing to pay much more than we ask for it . . . and like it!

Sleek, created and developed by Elizabeth Arden is the safe way to remove unsightly hair on face, arms and legs.

Big Full 4½ oz. size $2 plus tax

Sleek is a dependable, medically safe depilatory, time-tested in purity, safety and effectiveness... incomparable for all hair removal on delicate areas of the skin.

Sleek is a "must" for summer, the unveiling season with bare arms and legs dominating the beaches! Use it freely to keep face, arms and legs satin-smooth. Once used, you'll never be without it.

Sleek has the most delightful fragrance (unlike the average depilatory)—and leaves the skin smooth, smooth as satin.

Sleek is a safe quick-action cream—works in minutes. It is a pleasure to use—no fussy preparations or messy aftermath.

Sleek is easy to apply. Simply cream on Sleek with your fingers... and minutes later rinse with warm water—and all hair vanishes with the rinsing. S-L-E-E-K... and it's off.

The one safe depilatory to use on your face as well as legs and arms!

Was Ruth Greater Than Cobb?

New Formula Devised To Value Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Branch Rickey has reduced the evaluation of a whole baseball team and an individual player to a mathematical equation.

The General Manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates has worked out a revolutionary formula which shows why pennant winning teams during the last 35 years have been successful.

In a bylined story in Life Magazine, the 70-odd-old Father of the Farm System, names his 25 greatest hitters and 12 top pitchers since 1920, and attempts to prove why through a complicated mathematical formula.

Some Shockers

Rickey's findings are mostly expected but some are bound to be shockers. For instance, Ty Cobb, regarded by many as the greatest of all batters, ranks only 23rd according to the Rickey formula. Babe Ruth, voted the No. 1 player of all time in the Associated Press' half century poll several years ago, is ranked at the top.

Rickey also rates Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' southpaw of the 1920s and '30s, as the greatest pitcher since 1920, above such illustrious hurlers as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove and Dizzy Dean. Johnson, of course, had his best years before 1920.

The formula, designed to show what really wins games, is called by Rickey the most disconcerting and at the same time the most constructive thing to come into baseball.

"The formula is so revealing and so unrefutable," he says, "that it has compelled me to put different values on some of my oldest and cherished theories."

The formula, as applied to the gauging and analyzing of team performance, is simple enough, even with the bizarre use of symbols and equations Rickey uses. It boils down to this—the team with the widest plus margin in scoring runs as compared to the giving up of runs usually wins the pennant. According to Rickey, this theory has proved 96.2 per cent correct when applied to the final major league standings over the last 20 years.

The formula as applied to the rating of individual players, however, is bound to evoke a great deal of dissent. It deals solely with offense, with accent on power. It nullifies fielding efficiency completely.

"Fielding averages?" Scoffs Rickey. "Utterly worthless as a yardstick. They are not only misleading but deceiving."

The three basic, measurable ingredients Rickey uses for offense are: 1. On base average. 2. Extra base power. and 3. Clutch hitting combined with speed and ability to take the extra base.

In his rating of pitchers, Rickey uses the present method of earned run average. This is the number of runs, exclusive of those scored because of errors, that are chargeable to a pitcher.

The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson
SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

Will Lincoln have Western League baseball in 1955? It all depends on how you fans populate Sherman Field during the oncoming month of August.

The Chiefs must draw a season total of 120,000 to be solvent for '55. Any amount under that total would necessitate another winter fund drive and, after two such drives, a third might not be the charm.

That means an average of 2,368 per night must be maintained from here on in.

Labor Night, slated for Aug. 21, should boost the average with a crowd approaching 4,000, if past history repeats. There can be no more sub-1,000 crowds, however, as was evidenced during the Chiefs' recent (and winning) home stand.

There is still plenty of incentive left for the Chiefs. Fourth place can still be had and that means the same as first when it comes to the post-season play-offs. Not since 1949, the pennant year, has a Lincoln team had a shot at the play-offs.

Given any stretch of consistent pitching, the Chiefs could slip into fourth spot and even third or second. Overhauling Denver's powerhouse for the pennant seems impossible.

They're down for the Chiefs as they launch their stretch run for a spot in the play-offs.

And they're down for Western League baseball in Lincoln in 1955. You fans have the answer. See you at Sherman Field.

Wally Green, new editor of the Outdoor Nebraskan, has put out a grand summer edition. If you own an ounce of sporting blood, Wally's magazine, which is published by the Nebraska State Game Commission, is certainly worth your attention.

It even includes a list we've been trying to dig up for years, the Nebraska state fish records:

Largemouth Bass: 9 pounds, 3 ounces. Caught by Wentworth Clarke, Omaha, in Fremont State Lake No. 4 in 1943. (World record: 22 pounds, 4 ounces).

Smallmouth Bass: Open. (World record: 10 pounds, 8 ounces).

White Bass: 4 pounds, 4 ounces. Caught by Barbara Mombach, Grand Island, in McConaughy reservoir in 1952. (No authentic world record but catches up to 5 pounds reported).

Bluegill: 2 pounds, 8 ounces. Caught by party consisting of Walter Beckman, Carl Buck, Bill Adams and Ervin Krueger, of Garland, in Monroe power canal in 1949. (World record: 4 pounds, 12 ounces).

Bullhead: Open. (No world record available).

Blue Catfish: 58 pounds. Caught by O. P. Nielson, Bloomfield, in the Missouri River near Bloomfield in 1954. (No world record available.)

Crappie: 3 pounds, 4 ounces. Caught by A. E. Hueppelsheuster, Lincoln, across Lake McConaughy from Otter Creek in 1947. (No world record available).

Fresh Water Drum: 17 pounds, 1 ounce. Caught by Edward Woolsey, Omaha, in Carter lake in 1952. (No world record available).

Northern Pike: 25 pounds. Caught by R. O. DeFord, Ogallala, in McConaughy in 1951. This record was tied by O. D. Moon, Sterling, Colo., in McConaughy in 1951. (World record: 46 pounds, 2 ounces).

Perch: Open. (World record not available).

Rainbow Trout: 12 pounds, 4 ounces. Caught by J. C. Wickard, Brule, in Sports Service Bay near Kingsley dam. (World record: 37 pounds).

There are two ways for fishermen to record fish to establish new state fishing records. One method is to have a local Conservation Officer witness the weighing of the fish so he can file a report on it.

The other method is to have an affidavit made of the catch and have two witnesses, who actually saw the weighing, sign the affidavit. Forward the affidavit to the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission, State House, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dodgers Tip Chiefs 5-4 In 12

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A bases-loaded single by Pinch Hitter Ken Staples in the 12th inning gave Pueblo a 5-4 victory over Lincoln Wednesday night.

The triumph was Pueblo's second straight over the chiefs, and the fifth straight in the Dodgers' current home stand.

Trailing 4-3 entering the ninth, Lincoln sent the game into extra innings with a run on a walk, a single by Walt Linden and a Pueblo error.

In the 12th, the Dodgers loaded the bases with one out on back-to-back singles by Frank Jeffers and Willie Davis and an intentional walk to George Anderson. Roger Wright replaced Don Stoker on the mound for Lincoln, and Pueblo Manager Goldie Holt countered by calling on Staples as a pinch hitter.

Lincoln's ace, Andy Bush (14-6), will face either Aplo (6-6) or McMinn (5-6) in the series finale tonight.

DiBiase Hits Top Division

. . . Wrestle Friday

Argentina Rocca headlines Promoter Adam Krieger's final summer card with his bout against tough Art Nielsen. Reggie Lisowski and Larry Hamilton meet in the other bout.

Krieger announced that all ringside seats had been moved closer to the ring and that the matches will be held in the fairgrounds indoor 4-H arena in case of rain.

"The weather man has promised me a clear night, however," said Krieger. "That outdoor grandstand is the coolest place in Lincoln."

39 Players Used In Game As Managers Battle For Victory

By CHARLES CHAMBERLIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Mickey Mantle smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning, after the game had been delayed 1 hour 8 minutes by rain, to give the New York Yankees an uphill 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday.

Mantle's blast into the center field stands, his 21st homer of the season, was the finishing touch to a game of strategic shennanigans by rival managers, who used a total of 39 players—only three short of a major league record.

Most of the fans in a crowd of 38,056—largest week-day count in Comiskey Park history — sat through the contest that was finished under the lights and lasted 4 hours 45 minutes, including two rain enforced delays. Although sanded, the infield was extremely slippery.

Mantle slammed the clincher off Jack Harshman, sixth of seven Sox pitchers, after Irv Noren had led off the ninth with a walk and Joe Collins had singled him to third. Collins took second on the throw-in by right fielder Jim Rivera that nearly nipped Noren at third.

In the eighth, the Sox had stifled a three-run Yankee uprising behind fine relief hurling of Harry Dorish who retired the side with the tying run on second to preserve a 5-4 Chicago lead. Then the big interruption by rain came.

The Sox vainly tried to get back into the game in the last of the ninth. Nellie Fox doubled and went to third on Minnie Minoso's single. But they became two of a total of nine players Chicago left stranded as Johnny Sain, last of five Yankee pitchers, made Johnny Groth hit into a double play and Freddie Marsh pop out.

New York had cut Chicago's lead with three runs in the eighth as Mantle singled, Yogi Berra belted his second double, Hank Bauer tripled and Andy Carey singled. The uprising was off Sandy Consuegra and Dorish came in to retire the side before further damage.

The victory went to Bob Grim and the loss was pinned on Harshman. They were far back in the line of players parading onto the field as Manager Paul Richards of the Sox used 20 and Casey Stengel of the Yankees inserted 19.

Rhodes Hits 3 Homers; Giants Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim (Dusty) Rhodes smashed three home runs and Willie Mays clouted his 26th homer of the season as the New York Giants broke out of their six-game losing streak with a resounding 10-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the shutout, his fifth of the season, spacing 10 hits for his 15th triumph against only two defeats. It was the 10th straight victory for the young lefthander who has not been beaten since May 21 when he dropped a decision to Philadelphia's Robin Roberts, the only other 15-game winner thus far this season.

The victory gave the pace-setting Giants a temporary 2½ game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were scheduled to meet the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night.

Detroit Romps Past A's 10-2

DETROIT (AP)—Steve Souchock, sidelined for most of the season with a broken left wrist, came off the bench Wednesday and hit a pair of 3-run homers as the Detroit Tigers rolled up 17 hits for a 10-2 romp over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The 35-year-old veteran, who had been to bat only 18 times, connected in the third and sixth innings off loser Alex Kellner—both home runs barely clearing the left field screen.

His slugging eased Al Aber to his fourth victory against four losses. The Tiger southpaw gave up 10 hits and fanned seven in pitching his first complete game of the season.

Aber lost his first big league shutout in the ninth when the A's put together successive singles by Jim Finigan, Manager Eddie Joost, Wilmer Shantz and Joe Astroth for their only two runs.

Doran, Lesser Gain Second Round Wins In Western Golf

Miss Doran had little trouble in defeating Mrs. Dorothy Ellis Balch. Miss Lesser, down one at the end of nine holes, found her par-busting stride on the back nine to defeat Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla., 3 and 2.

Jane Nelson of Indianapolis, the 1953 Western Amateur runner-up, took a 2 and 1 decision from Mrs. Marjorie L. McMillen of Decatur, Ill., by riding out a 3-up margin after the first four holes.

Beverly Gammon of St. Paul, Minnesota State champion, had an off day, going 7 over par, but defeated Meriam H. Bailey of Palatine, Ill., 4 and 3.

Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., and Mickey Wright of La Jolla, Calif., also scored 4 and 3 victories. Miss Wall downed Carol Diringer of Tiffin, Ohio, and Miss Wright conquered Virginia Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill.

In the remaining two matches, Barbara McIntire of Toledo Ohio, eliminated Mrs. Nancy K. Stumpp of Wheeling, W.Va., 3 and 2, and Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Rutland, Vt., defeated Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 1-up.

Miss Doran started her match with Mrs Balch by dropping a short birdie putt and then won the next two holes at par. She birdied No. 5 on a chip one foot from the cup, but lost the seventh after landing in a trap. The Cleveland school teacher hit another beautiful chip on the eighth two feet from the pin for a birdie-2 and rounded the turn 4-up.

Miss Doran took the ninth on another birdie when her iron shot again hit two feet from the cup and the 10th at par. Mrs. Balch three-putted the 13th to lose the hole and match.

Braves Gain Sixth Consecutive Win

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves won their sixth consecutive game Wednesday night, overcoming an early deficit to beat the last place Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4. Rookie outfielder Hank Aaron drove in three of the Braves' runs as he hit two singles and a triple in five trips.

Was Ruth Greater Than Cobb?

New Formula Devised To Value Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Branch Rickey has reduced the evaluation of a whole baseball team and an individual player to a mathematical equation.

The General Manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates has worked out a revolutionary formula which shows why pennant winning teams during the last 35 years have been successful.

In a bylined story in Life Magazine, the 70-odd-old Father of the Farm System, names his 25 greatest hitters and 12 top pitchers since 1920, and attempts to prove why through a complicated mathematical formula.

Some Shockers

Rickey's findings are mostly expected but some are bound to be shockers. For instance, Ty Cobb, regarded by many as the greatest of all batters, ranks only 23rd according to the Rickey formula. Babe Ruth, voted the No. 1 player of all time in the Associated Press' half century poll several years ago, is ranked at the top.

Rickey also rates Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' southpaw of the 1920s and '30s, as the greatest pitcher since 1920, above such illustrious hurlers as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, Lefty Grove and Dizzy Dean. Johnson, of course, had his best years before 1920.

The formula, designed to show what really wins games, is called by Rickey the most disconcerting and at the same time the most constructive thing to come into baseball.

"The formula is so revealing and so unrefutable," he says, "that it has compelled me to put different values on some of my oldest and cherished theories."

The formula, as applied to the gauging and analyzing of team performance, is simple enough, even with the bizarre use of symbols and equations Rickey uses. It boils down to this—the team with the widest plus margin in scoring runs as compared to the giving up of runs usually wins the pennant. According to Rickey, this theory has proved 96.2 per cent correct when applied to the final major league standings over the last 20 years.

The formula as applied to the rating of individual players, however, is bound to evoke a great deal of dissent. It deals solely with offense, with accent on power. It nullifies fielding efficiency completely.

"Fielding averages?" Scoffs Rickey. "Utterly worthless as a yardstick. They are not only misleading but deceiving."

The three basic, measurable ingredients Rickey uses for offense are: 1. On base average. 2. Extra base power, and 3. Clutch hitting combined with speed and ability to take the extra base.

In his rating of pitchers, Rickey uses the present method of earned run average. This is the number of runs, exclusive of those scored because of errors, that are chargeable to a pitcher.

The Firing Line

Norris Anderson
SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

The Chiefs must draw a season total of 120,000 to be solvent for '55. Any amount under that total would necessitate another winter fund drive and, after two such drives, a third might not be the charm.

That means an average of 2,368 per night must be maintained from here on in.

Labor Night, slated for Aug. 21, should boost the average with a crowd approaching 4,000, if past history repeats. There can be no more sub-1,000 crowds, however, as was evidenced during the Chiefs' recent (and winning) home stand.

There is still plenty of incentive left for the Chiefs. Fourth place can still be had and that means the same as first when it comes to the post-season play-offs. Not since 1949, the pennant year, has a Lincoln team had a shot at the play-offs.

Given any stretch of consistent pitching, the Chiefs could slip into fourth spot and even third or second. Overhauling Denver's powerhouse for the pennant seems impossible.

And they're down for Western League baseball in Lincoln in 1955.

You fans have the answer. See you at Sherman Field.

Wally Green, new editor of the Outdoor Nebraskan, has put out a grand summer edition. If you own an ounce of sporting blood, Wally's magazine, which is published by the Nebraska State Game Commission, is certainly worth your attention.

There are two ways for fishermen to record fish to establish new state fishing records. One method is to have a local Conservation Officer witness the weighing of the fish so he can file a report on it.

The other method is to have an affidavit made of the catch and have two witnesses, who actually saw the weighing, sign the affidavit. Forward the affidavit to the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission, State House, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dodgers Tip Chiefs 5-4 In 12

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A bases-loaded single by Pinch Hitter Ken Staples in the 12th inning gave Pueblo a 5-4 victory over Lincoln Wednesday night.

The triumph was Pueblo's second straight over the chiefs, and the fifth straight in the Dodgers' current home stand.

In the 12th, the Dodgers loaded the bases with one out on back-to-back singles by Frank Jeffers and Willie Davis and an intentional walk to George Anderson. Roger Wright replaced Don Stoker on the mound for Lincoln, and Pueblo Manager Goldie Holt countered by calling on Staples as a pinch hitter.

39 Players Used In Game As Managers Battle For Victory

By CHARLES CHAMBERLIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Mickey Mantle smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning, after the game had been delayed 1 hour 8 minutes by rain, to give the New York Yankees an uphill 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday.

Mantle's blast into the center field stands, his 21st homer of the season, was the finishing touch to a game of strategic shennanigans by rival managers, who used a total of 39 players—only three short of a major league record.

Most of the fans in a crowd of 38,056—largest week-day count in Comiskey Park history — sat through the contest that was finished under the lights and lasted 4 hours 45 minutes, including two rain enforced delays. Although sanded, the infield was extremely slippery.

Mantle slammed the clincher off Jack Harshman, sixth of seven Sox pitchers, after Irv Noren had led off the ninth with a walk and Joe Collins had singled him to third. Collins took second on the throw-in by right fielder Jim Rivera that nearly nipped Noren at third.

In the eighth, the Sox had stifled a three-run Yankee uprising behind fine relief hurling of Harry Dorish who retired the side with the tying run on second to preserve a 5-4 Chicago lead. Then the big interruption by rain came.

The Sox vainly tried to get back into the game in the last of the ninth. Nellie Fox doubled and went to third on Minnie Minoso's single. But they became two of a total of nine players Chicago left stranded as Johnny Sain, last of five Yankee pitchers, made Johnny Groth hit into a double play and Freddie Marsh pop out.

New York had cut Chicago's lead with three runs in the eighth as Mantle singled, Yogi Berra belted his second double, Hank Bauer tripled and Andy Carey singled. The uprising was off Sandy Consuegra and Dorish came in to retire the side before further damage.

The victory went to Bob Grim and the loss was pinned on Harshman. They were far back in the line of players parading onto the field as Manager Paul Richards of the Sox used 20 and Casey Stengel of the Yankees inserted 19.

Rhodes Hits 3 Homers; Giants Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim (Dusty) Rhodes smashed three home runs and Willie Mays clouted his 26th homer of the season as the New York Giants broke out of their six-game losing streak with a resounding 10-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the shutout, his fifth of the season, spacing 10 hits for his 15th triumph against only two defeats. It was the 10th straight victory for the young lefthander who has not been beaten since May 21 when he dropped a decision to Philadelphia's Robin Roberts, the only other 15-game winner thus far this season.

The victory gave the pace-setting Giants a temporary 2½ game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were scheduled to meet the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night.

Detroit Romps Past A's 10-2

DETROIT (AP)—Steve Souchock, sidelined for most of the season with a broken left wrist, came off the bench Wednesday and hit a pair of 3-run homers as the Detroit Tigers rolled up 17 hits for a 10-2 romp over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The 35-year-old veteran, who had been to bat only 18 times, connected in the third and sixth innings off loser Alex Kellner—both home runs barely clearing the left field screen.

His slugging eased Al Aber to his fourth victory against four losses. The Tiger southpaw gave up 10 hits and fanned seven in pitching his first complete game of the season.

Aber lost his first big league shutout in the ninth when the A's put together successive singles by Jim Finigan, Manager Eddie Joost, Wilmer Shantz and Joe Astroth for their only two runs.

Doran, Lesser Gain Second Round Wins In Western Golf

Miss Doran had little trouble in defeating Mrs. Dorothy Ellis Balch. Miss Lesser, down one at the end of nine holes, found her par-busting stride on the back nine to defeat Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla., 3 and 2.

Beverly Gammon of St. Paul, Minnesota State champion, had an off day, going 7 over par, but defeated Meriam H. Bailey of Palatine, Ill., 4 and 3.

Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., and Mickey Wright of La Jolla, Calif., also scored 4 and 3 victories. Miss Wall downed Carol Diringer of Tiffin, Ohio, and Miss Wright conquered Virginia Dennehy of Lake Forest, Ill.

In the remaining two matches, Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, eliminated Mrs. Nancy K. Stumpp of Wheeling, W.Va., 3 and 2, and Mrs. Mae Murray Jones of Rutland, Vt., defeated Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 1-up.

Miss Doran started her match with Mrs. Balch by dropping a short birdie putt and then won the next two holes at par. She birdied No. 5 on a chip one foot from the cup, but lost the seventh after landing in a trap. The Cleveland school teacher hit another beautiful chip on the eighth two feet from the pin for a birdie-2 and rounded the turn 4-up.

Miss Doran took the ninth on another birdie when her iron shot again hit two feet from the cup and the 10th at par. Mrs. Balch three-putted the 13th to lose the hole and match.

His Farm System Is Paying Off

Giants' Playboy Stoneham Proves Shrewd Operator

NEW YORK (INS) — Horace Stoneham, genial check-grabber of the New York Giants, has often been tabbed as a playboy who was letting his club go to ruin.

What his ever-ready critics always overlook is the fact that while he may be a playboy in the evenings he is a smart, shrewd business man in his working hours.

And where other clubs have been spending fortunes for ball players he has a league-leading club that cost comparative peanuts.

A few years ago the Pittsburgh Pirates gave a reported $10,000 bonus to Paul Pettit, a high school boy, who never did pan out as a pitcher.

Meanwhile, Stoneham kept building up a club, some of the players cost comparatively nothing, but if thrown on the open market would bring far more than Pettit cost the Pirates.

The fabulous Willie Mays cost Stoneham only $10,000 and the boy can attract more than enough in one week to pay that tab. One of Stoneham's scouts was hunting a first baseman when he discovered Mays and Stoneham told him to forget the first baseman and get the kid.

Stoneham acquired big Jim Hearn from the St. Louis Cardinals for the $10,000 waiver price and he got his star relief artist, Marv Grissom on waivers from the American League for $15,000.

And he signed Ruben Gomez, who should be a great pitcher for many years to come, as a free agent for $15,000.

First Baseman Whitey Lockman, outfielder Don Mueller and his No. 1 catcher, Wes Westman, cost nothing. They were developed on Giant farms.

As for pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, Stoneham actually got a little cash with them when he sent Bobby Thomson to Milwaukee in a trade. And he got many years of great service out of Thomson who cost him very little.

Al Dark and Eddie Stanky came to the Giants in a deal for some players who have long since disappeared from the majors.

Only Davey Williams and Dusty Rhodes cost a large amount. Atlanta got $65,000 for Williams and Nashville $25,000 for Rhodes.

Optimists Lose Tourney Bid, 8-6, To Hastings

HASTINGS — Hastings knocked the Lincoln Optimists out of Junior Legion tourney play for the 1954 season here Wednesday night, 8-6, before a paid crowd of 1,450.

A five-run burst by Hastings in the first inning sent the Lincoln nine careening to defeat. Hastings picked up five runs on four walks, doubles by Tom Osborne and Don Perdew and a double steal. Two Lincoln errors and a single by Osborne brought in two more Hastings runs in the second.

Trailing, 7-0, Lincoln finally gained a run in the fourth when Al Newbill tripled and scored on Yogi Hergenrader's sacrifice fly The Optimists collected three runs in the fifth on three errors, Bill Bergstraesser's double and Cliff Hardesty's sacrifice fly Larry Littrell's triple and John Lute's single accounted for a run in the sixth.

Meyer Hurls Dodgers To 3 To 1 Win Over Chicago

BROOKLYN (AP)—Russ Meyer of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched his 15th consecutive victory over his one-time teammates, the Chicago Cubs, Wednesday night, winning 3-1, but he needed help in the ninth when the Cubs put the tying runs on base. The triumph kept the Dodgers within two games of the league-leading New York Giants.

Jim Hughes took over from Meyer with men on first and third and one out in the ninth. He struck out Ernie Banks and then also breezed a third strike past catcher Clyde McCullough.

Indians Win Over Red Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Making the most of five hits off Boston's rookie Russ Kemmerer, Cleveland pounded the Red Sox Wednesday night for the second straight time in a 2-1 game that kept the Indians in the American League's first place by two and a half games. Righthander Early Wynn yielded 11 hits to Boston as he posted his 14th victory.

The Tribe's winning runs came in the sixth inning. Bob Avila singled to left and scored on Al Rosen's two-base clout to center field. Then Vic Wertz singled to right, scoring Rosen.

Until the sixth inning, Kemmerer held the Tribe scoreless with only two hits. The Boston rookie now has two losses against one victory.

Johnson Wins In Dull Bout

It was a dull bout, most of the way, with Jones waiting too long to start any effective attack. When he did, Johnson had too much for him, beating him off with a jarring jab and a right uppercut.

His Farm System Is Paying Off

Giants' Playboy Stoneham Proves Shrewd Operator

NEW YORK (INS) — Horace Stoneham, genial check-grabber of the New York Giants, has often been tabbed as a playboy who was letting his club go to ruin.

What his ever-ready critics always overlook is the fact that while he may be a playboy in the evenings he is a smart, shrewd business man in his working hours.

Starting from scratch he has built up a sound farm system that is beginning to show results.

And where other clubs have been spending fortunes for ball players he has a league-leading club that cost comparative peanuts.

A few years ago the Pittsburgh Pirates gave a reported $10,000 bonus to Paul Pettit, a high school boy, who never did pan out as a pitcher.

Stoneham's critics wanted to know why he didn't land Pettit. Stoneham said nothing.

Meanwhile, Stoneham kept building up a club, some of the players cost comparatively nothing, but if thrown on the open market would bring far more than Pettit cost the Pirates.

The fabulous Willie Mays cost Stoneham only $10,000 and the boy can attract more than enough in one week to pay that tab. One of Stoneham's scouts was hunting a first baseman when he discovered Mays and Stoneham told him to forget the first baseman and get the kid.

Sal Maglie, one of the Giants' pitching aces, cost something less than $5,000 when he was landed in a draft from the Elmira, N. Y. club.

Stoneham acquired big Jim Hearn from the St. Louis Cardinals for the $10,000 waiver price and he got his star relief artist, Marv Grissom on waivers from the American League for $15,000.

He brought his slugging outfielder, Monte Irvin and his equally hard-hitting third baseman, Hank Thompson, from Negro teams for little more than car fare.

And he signed Ruben Gomez, who should be a great pitcher for many years to come, as a free agent for $15,000.

First Baseman Whitey Lockman, outfielder Don Mueller and his No. 1 catcher, Wes Westman, cost nothing. They were developed on Giant farms.

As for pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, Stoneham actually got a little cash with them when he sent Bobby Thomson to Milwaukee in a trade. And he got many years of great service out of Thomson who cost him very little.

Al Dark and Eddie Stanky came to the Giants in a deal for some players who have long since disappeared from the majors.

Only Davey Williams and Dusty Rhodes cost a large amount, Atlanta got $65,000 for Williams and Nashville $25,000 for Rhodes.

Optimists Lose Tourney Bid, 8-6, To Hastings

HASTINGS — Hastings knocked the Lincoln Optimists out of Junior Legion tourney play for the 1954 season here Wednesday night, 8-6, before a paid crowd of 1,450.

By measuring the Lincoln team in the finals of the area competition here, Hastings won a berth in the state tourney at Columbus.

Trailing, 7-0, Lincoln finally gained a run in the fourth when Al Newbill tripled and scored on Yogi Hergenrader's sacrifice fly The Optimists collected three runs in the fifth on three errors, Bill Bergstraesser's double and Cliff Hardesty's sacrifice fly Larry Littrell's triple and John Lute's single accounted for a run in the sixth.

Meyer Hurls Dodgers To 3 To 1 Win Over Chicago

BROOKLYN (AP)—Russ Meyer of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched his 15th consecutive victory over his one-time teammates, the Chicago Cubs, Wednesday night, winning 3-1, but he needed help in the ninth when the Cubs put the tying runs on base. The triumph kept the Dodgers within two games of the league-leading New York Giants.

Jim Hughes took over from Meyer with men on first and third and one out in the ninth. He struck out Ernie Banks and then also breezed a third strike past catcher Clyde McCullough.

Indians Win Over Red Sox

CLEVELAND (AP)—Making the most of five hits off Boston's rookie Russ Kemmerer, Cleveland pounded the Red Sox Wednesday night for the second straight time in a 2-1 game that kept the Indians in the American League's first place by two and a half games. Righthander Early Wynn yielded 11 hits to Boston as he posted his 14th victory.

The Tribe's winning runs came in the sixth inning. Bob Avila singled to left and scored on Al Rosen's two-base clout to center field. Then Vic Wertz singled to right, scoring Rosen.

Until the sixth inning, Kemmerer held the Tribe scoreless with only two hits. The Boston rookie now has two losses against one victory.

Johnson Wins In Dull Bout

It was a dull bout, most of the way, with Jones waiting too long to start any effective attack. When he did, Johnson had too much for him, beating him off with a jarring jab and a right uppercut.

Melby, who won 2 up, led 3 up at the halfway mark, but Gruenemeier rallied to tie the match on the 13th. However, Melby then went ahead 1 up on 16, and after halving 17, cinched the final spot by winning the 18th hole.

Kid Matthews 'Sharp' For Cockell Bout

SEATTLE (AP) — Harry "Kid" Matthews has trained down to a sharp 180 pounds and British Empire champ Don Cockell has reached a nice, round 207 for their heavyweight clash here Friday

The two scrappers are at about the same weight as when they fought here last year and in London early this year. Cockell won both by disputed decisions.

They were disputed mainly by Matthews's manager, Jack Hurley, although he had one judge on his side when Cockell took a split decision in their first meeting.

The London bout was decided by the referee without benefit of judges and that's the way it will be here, with ex-champ Jim Braddock in the role of arbiter.

Feeling he was drawn pretty fine, Matthews has tapered off his training to a light workout. Cockell however, said he was not in the pink as yet "but I will be by Friday."

The weather man has promised a nice evening for fisticuffs. If rain threatens, however, the main bout will go on right after the first preliminary, set for 8:30 p.m. (PST).

(With normal weather the fight will start about 10 p.m. PST)

Elk's Playoff To Begin On Sunday

A four-game Elks Baseball League playoff will get under way at Sherman Field Sunday with two games Sunday afternoon and two more Monday night.

Sunday afternoon, starting at 1:30, Anderson's Hardware will meet Lawlors, and immediately following Globe Laundry will tangle with regular-schedule winner Mack's Transport.

Monday night the losers will play at 6:30 and the winners at 8:30.

No admission will be charged to see the game.

Mrs. Dobson LCC Winner

Mrs. Adna Dobson is the Lincoln Country Club Ladies' Medal golf champion.

In winning the title Wednesday, Mrs. Dobson put together handicapped rounds of 72, 72 and 73 for a total of 217. The runnerup was Mrs. E. B. Anderson with 226, followed by Mrs. Ed Taber, 227, and Mrs. Jack Zimmer, 230.

Mrs. Max Roper's 114 won the nine-hole championship. She was followed by Mrs. Bob Davis, 116; Mrs. Walter Henrion, 117, and Mrs. Jay Seacrest, 119.

$30,000 To Mrs. Tatum

GARY, Ind., (INS) — Mrs. Mona Tatum has been granted $30,000 in separate maintenance for herself and two children for the next five years from Reece (Goose) Tatum, basketball wizard of the Harlem Globetrotters.

Martin Takes Cautious Stand:

'Pat McMurtry May Be Comer In Ring'

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — You maybe heard of the dour gent driving along a country road with a friend who called attention to some white horses grazing in a meadow.

Which is using the rural approach to the subject of young Pat McMurtey, Tacoma heavyweight who will appear in the semi-windup on the Harry Matthews-Don Cockell bout in Seattle Friday night.

That is, from here the young man looks good, although we're waiting to see the other side of him. We're waiting to see what he does against some really stern opposition before committing ourselves.

'Wrong Before'

We've been wrong so often before in predicting great things for young fighters . . . Pat Comiskey . . . Joe Baksi . . . Lou Nova . . . Tommy Gomez. At one time or another we believed each had the stuff to reach the top. Only Nova got as high as a title match, when he got the stuff knocked out of him by Joe Louis.

We've been getting practically a play-by-play account of McMurtry's career since his early amateur days. Our informant is Homer Amundsen, a sharp little fellow who early saw the potentialities of the youngster, and who as trainer, and now also manager, of him has been bringing him along nicely, carefully avoiding overmatching him.

Brother A Champ

Pat McMurtry—he has a younger brother, Mike, who is inter-collegiate heavyweight champion — has had only eight pro fights and has won them all, seven of them by knockouts, and although his opponents have nothing to qualify them for the top 10 except two arms and two legs, some of them have been rugged individuals who wouldn't go down unless clipped with authority.

Pat will meet a Salt Lake City battler named Jack Nelson Friday, and Nelson's record indicates he goes in there swinging, with the chances pretty fair that he'll either win by a knockout or get knocked out himself. Earl Walls stopped him in one last May.

Another fighter on the Friday card we will be watching with interest, if from quite a distance, is Dixon Hoxsey, a clean-cut Seattle young man who, at 140, is too heavy for a lightweight and too light for a welterweight, so he fights lightweights and welterweights.

Managed By Hurley

Hoxsey, with an impressive string of victories, is managed by Jack Hurley, who will have quite a parlay going for him, as he also tells Matthews how, when and where to fight. He leaves out the why.

Hurley, lean and languid with the woebegone look of a man down to his last dime, which he can't find, has been searching these many years for another Billy Petrolle, the fighter he maneuvered into a big bankroll, but never a title.

He thought he might have a reasonable facsimile in Vince Foster. After Foster's untimely death he took Matthews under his scrawny wing, at Matthews' urging, but you can't get away from the idea that his heart is with the 140-pounders, and in Hoxsey he may have a fighter who will go far.

Kansas U Soph Scores Upset In National Tennis Tourney

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Unheralded Robert Riley, of Kansas City, Mo., staged a major upset in the third round of the National Junior and Boys tennis championships in Kalamazoo Wednesday.

The 17-year-old Riley, a Kansas University soph, surprised top-seeded Mike Franks, of Los Angeles, junior finalist in 1953, 3-6, 8-6 and 6-2.

Moss In Spotlight

The defeat placed the junior spotlight directly on second-seeded Jerry Moss, the Western Junior champion from Modesto, Calif. Moss, who is yet untroubled in the tournament, ousted George Mandel of Astoria, N. Y., today, 6-1, 6-2.

Top-seeded Alan Silverman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., breezed through Tag Grossman, of Denver, Colo, 6-0, 6-1. Silverman has dropped just two games in the tournament.

Conservatives Blast Suez Plan

Further Clashes Expected

LONDON (INS) — Angry Conservatives protested Wednesday in the House of Commons against the government's agreement with Egypt to evacuate British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

Eden insisted that the treaty returning the canal zone to Egypt will "contribute to reduction of tension in the Middle East." He declared that British foreign defense plans must be based on the consent and co-operation of other peoples.

Conservative Ralph Assheton, a member of the group protesting the agreement, termed it "a great shock to many millions of people" throughout the British commonwealth. He said its signing was "a matter of very grave concern."

'Convinced'

Former Prime Minister and Laborite leader Clement Attlee asked Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill whether the Suez pact had his support and the aged statesman replied·

"I am convinced that it is absolutely necessary."

The attacks pointed to further clashes Thursday when full debate is held in Commons on the agreement. Loud protests against the treaty also were voiced in the normally peaceful House of Lords.

U.S. Aid To Start

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — American military and economic aid will soon begin flowing into Egypt in quantity as a result of Britain's agreement to evacuate the Suez Canal zone, informed sources said Wednesday.

An unwritten U. S. commitment to help build up Egypt's economy and military establishment was a big factor in persuading Egypt to accept terms agreeable to London whereby the British will pull their 83,000 troops out of the zone, the informants said.

The United States is expected to put chief emphasis on economic aid to this country, since problems of irrigation and industrialization have a high priority with Egypt's governing Revolutionary Council.

Whatever The Cause, Children Today Reading More, Library Survey Shows

Whether or not it's because there are just more kids these days or because television jacks up a child's interest in the world around him — more and more small fry are reading more and more books.

Lincoln's head librarian, Charles C. Dalrymple, admits he doesn't know the reason for the soaring circulation figures in the children's libraries (main and branches) but adds, "Whatever the reason, we're gratified at the results."

He pointed out that there has been "continuous" increases in book circulation during the summer. The library staff discovered this summer, however, that the stocks of books for the "under fifth grade" crowd fell far short of the demand.

"From now on, we've decided to base our purchases on school population figures so we always have a good supply of books fit for the largest age group" Dalrymple said.

Although television may have stimulated these particular interests, Dalrymple also credits the book publishers with printing better books on such subjects.

Conservatives Blast Suez Plan

Further Clashes Expected

LONDON (INS) — Angry Conservatives protested Wednesday in the House of Commons against the government's agreement with Egypt to evacuate British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

Eden insisted that the treaty returning the canal zone to Egypt will "contribute to reduction of tension in the Middle East." He declared that British foreign defense plans must be based on the consent and co-operation of other peoples.

Conservative Ralph Assheton, a member of the group protesting the agreement, termed it "a great shock to many millions of people" throughout the British commonwealth. He said its signing was "a matter of very grave concern."

'Convinced'

Former Prime Minister and Laborite leader Clement Attlee asked Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill whether the Suez pact had his support and the aged statesman replied:

"I am convinced that it is absolutely necessary."

The attacks pointed to further clashes Thursday when full debate is held in Commons on the agreement. Loud protests against the treaty also were voiced in the normally peaceful House of Lords.

U.S. Aid To Start

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — American military and economic aid will soon begin flowing into Egypt in quantity as a result of Britain's agreement to evacuate the Suez Canal zone, informed sources said Wednesday.

An unwritten U. S. commitment to help build up Egypt's economy and military establishment was a big factor in persuading Egypt to accept terms agreeable to London whereby the British will pull their 83,000 troops out of the zone, the informants said.

The United States is expected to put chief emphasis on economic aid to this country, since problems of irrigation and industrialization have a high priority with Egypt's governing Revolutionary Council.

Lincoln Church Calls New Pastor

Whether or not it's because there are just more kids these days or because television jacks up a child's interest in the world around him — more and more small fry are reading more and more books.

Lincoln's head librarian, Charles C. Dalrymple, admits he doesn't know the reason for the soaring circulation figures in the children's libraries (main and branches) but adds, "Whatever the reason, we're gratified at the results."

He pointed out that there has been "continuous" increases in book circulation during the summer. The library staff discovered this summer, however, that the stocks of books for the "under fifth grade" crowd fell far short of the demand.

"From now on, we've decided to base our purchases on school population figures so we always have a good supply of books fit for the largest age group" Dalrymple said.

Lincoln's younger set is currently reading books on hobbies, natural history, and elementary science.

Although television may have stimulated these particular interests, Dalrymple also credits the book publishers with printing better books on such subjects.

Sergeant Denies Statutory Rape

Air Force Sgt. Jimmie Platt, 26, of the Lincoln Air Force Base pleaded not guilty Wednesday in Lancaster County to a statutory rape charge involving a 14-year-old Lincoln girl.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin set preliminary hearing for Aug. 7, 1954, and fixed Platt's appearance bond at $2,500.

Voters Said Confused About Senatorial Scramble

By ODELL HANSON
AP Staff Writer

Voters who never get acquainted with the ballot before they walk into the voting booth are likely to do more head scratching this year than usual.

One Lincoln observer with a reputation for keeping his ears to the political ground describes himself as "amazed" at the confusion existant among voters, particularly about U.S. senatorial contests.

Three Senators

The strange coincidence of the death in office of two Nebraska senators—Dwight Griswold and Hugh Butler, both Republicans—in a three month period of an election year has brought about the potential for more voter misunderstanding than usual.

This year, for the first time in Nebraska history, voters will elect three U.S. senators at one time.

Normally a state elects only two senators in a six-year period—and then only one at a time.

31 Hats

And as if that weren't confusing enough, a grand total of 31 hats have been tossed into the various senatorial rings. One Republican senatorial race alone has brought out 16 candidates—a recent-year record, if not an all-time record, for any similar contest in Nebraska.

The best way to identify the contests is by the length of their term.

1. The full six-year or "senior" term.

2. The month-or-more short-short or "peewee" term.

3 The four-year or "junior" term.

A-B-C's

1. The full or "senior" term

This contest would have been on the ballot whether or not there had been deaths in office. It's a sequel to the Griswold term.

Sen. Griswold, had he lived, probably would have run for re-election to this office. But with his death in April, the race was thrown wide open.

The Republicans who want nomination to this full term are Gov. Robert B. Crosby. State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, Rep. Carl T. Curtis of Minden, former State Republican Chairman David Martin of Kearney, Walter A. Nielsen, Omaha attorney and businessman; James L. Harrison of Omaha, a former military officer; and John P. Overgaard of Lincoln, insurance and real estate broker and dairy-plant operator

Democrat Candidate

The Democrats bidding for nomination to this "senior" term are Joseph V Benesch, Omaha attorney, Keith Neville of North Platte, governor of Nebraska from 1916 to 1918, and Edward A. Dosek of Lincoln, president of an insurance company.

Because of the "big names" involved, and the full term at stake, this is the senatorial contest generating most interest.

2. The short-short or "peewee" term·

This is something of an election law "freak"—A term expected to run little more than one month. About all the winner of this office gets is the senatorial title and the prestige that comes with winning.

The term runs from the time the State Canvassing Board certifies the election of a candidate to the post, until the new full term senator is sworn in early in January. The State Canvassing board doesn't meet this year until Nov. 22-20 days after the general election. The board is expected to issue certificates of election on or before Dec. 2 and the new senator probably will be sworn in about Jan 5 That makes for a term running not much more than one month.

Griswold Died

Here's how the peewee term comes about

When Sen Griswold died, Gov. Crosby appointed Mrs. Eva Bowring of Merriman to succeed him. But election laws say that such an appointee will serve only until the next general election when a successor can be chosen by the people as a whole. Sen. Griswold's term would have run out in January anyway, so the elected successor will only fill the short "gap."

It's this short-short term that has brought the unprecedented outpouring of candidates.

The 16 Republicans bidders are S. E. Torgeson, Kimball; Richard R. Dempster, North Platte; Max A. Denney, Fairbury; Myles Standish, Omaha; Hugh Carson, Ord; John R. Jirdon, Morrill; H P Heiliger, Lincoln; William Keeshan, Albion, Mac Baldrige, Omaha, John S Sampson, Omaha, Joseph Alexis, Lincoln; Chris C. Beck, Lincoln; Mrs. George P. Abel, Lincoln; N. W. Anderson, Lincoln; E. W. Gustafson, Scottsbluff, and Gerald Merritt, Lincoln

Butler's Death

3. The four-year or "junior" term.

This is the unexpected term resulting from the death this month of Sen. Butler. To fill the vacancy until the November election, Gov Crosby appointed Sam Reynolds of Omaha. But Butler was elected two years ago and more than four years remain of his term. Reynolds can serve only until a successor is elected. So the "junior" senatorial race is to name the man to complete the remaining four years of the Butler term.

Butler's death came on the deadline day for primary election filings, too late for individuals to file to succeed him. So Republican and Democratic party central committees met and seleced nominees — Rep. Roman L. Hruska of Omaha for the Republicans, and James F. Green of Omaha for the Democrats. Each name appears alone on the ballot so there is no contest in the primary. Not until the general election will Hruska and Green fight it out.

The naming of Hruska as a senatorial candidate created one additional complication by pulling him out of the race for re-election as Congressman Republican leaders in his district, the Second, met then and named Judge Jackson B. Chase of Omaha as the congressional nominee .

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed By International News Service)

That candidatial spinster Stevenson is coaching the White House how to mind the baby.

* * *

Adlai was out in Oregon weeping 48-caliber tears over the melancholy state of the incarcerated incumbents.

* * *

Steevy went to the Northwest for a better look at the southeast. For the first time in 40 years there is danger of Oregon sending a Democratic senator to Washington. Now you know why Adlai gave his sobbing muscles a work-out.

* * *

Sen. Wayne Morse is in the Senate but he is polishing no Hood River apples. He runs as independent as hair on the back of the neck.

* * *

Steevey claimed Morse was a Republican as long as he could stand it. But he doesn't explain why Morse never became a Democrat. The switch has been made by politicians in the prime of their ambitions.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Stocks Irregular But Gain Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Fitful cross-currents of trading pushed the stock market around irregularly Wednesday, but it managed to close with a slight net gain.

Many of the recently strong blue chips were under moderate selling pressures. At the same time, some of the low-priced issues were sought after, watch company stocks were in heavy demand, and the distillers had a spurt ahead.

Steels were under fire all day and closed down fractions to around a point. The railroads were higher most of the session, and then just before the close several key issues weakened enough to pull the rails down as a group.

Oils were firm. Motors were mixed. Utilities were higher. Most chemicals and electrical equipment were lower.

Prices went from around three points higher to between one and two points lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents at $132.30. That is the second straight new high for the average at the best levels since October of 1929.

The industrial component of the average advanced 29 cents at a new high of $179.00, and the utilities were up 30 cents a new high of $63.50, but the railroads stepped back 20 cents.

Volume was heavy at 2,740,000 shares. That compares with 2,690,000 shares traded Tuesday when the market was strong.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—A firm bond market Wednesday featured strong demand for Florida East Coast Railway bonds.

Florida East Coast 5s jumped 10 points in heavy trading to a new high of 125. Tuesday they climbed seven points. Railroad specialists in brokerage houses were unable to explain the sudden upsurge, but most agreed it contributed to the strength among speculative roads Wednesday.

Big Board volume declined to $4,170,000 par value from $4,371,000 Tuesday.

Stocks Irregular But Gain Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Fitful cross-currents of trading pushed the stock market around irregularly Wednesday, but it managed to close with a slight net gain.

Many of the recently strong blue chips were under moderate selling pressures. At the same time, some of the low-priced issues were sought after, watch company stocks were in heavy demand, and the distillers had a spurt ahead.

Steels were under fire all day and closed down fractions to around a point. The railroads were higher most of the session, and then just before the close several key issues weakened enough to pull the rails down as a group.

Oils were firm. Motors were mixed. Utilities were higher. Most chemicals and electrical equipment were lower.

Prices went from around three points higher to between one and two points lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents at $132.30. That is the second straight new high for the average at the best levels since October of 1929.

The industrial component of the average advanced 29 cents at a new high of $179.00, and the utilities were up 30 cents a new high of $63.50, but the railroads stepped back 20 cents.

Volume was heavy at 2,740,000 shares. That compares with 2,690,000 shares traded Tuesday when the market was strong.

The American Stock Exchange was somewhat higher on volume of 650,000 shares as compared with 600,000 shares traded Tuesday.

NEW YORK (AP)—A firm bond market Wednesday featured strong demand for Florida East Coast Railway bonds.

Florida East Coast 5s jumped 10 points in heavy trading to a new high of 125. Tuesday they climbed seven points. Railroad specialists in brokerage houses were unable to explain the sudden upsurge, but most agreed it contributed to the strength among speculative roads Wednesday.

Grains Up, Down Right At Close

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains closed weak on the Board of Trade Wednesday in a session enlivened by a fast price run up, and an equally fast decline, during the last 15 minutes.

Soybeans were the center of this late activity, particularly the highly volatile September contract. After selling down to $3.15 in the morning, it spurted sharply to $3.26, a new seasonal peak. But in the closing minutes it fell to finish at $3.20-$3.20½.

Wheat closed 2⅜-2¾ lower, corn 3¼-1½ lower, oats ⅜-⅝ lower, rye ¾-1⅜ lower, soybeans 2¾-5¾ lower and lard unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Wahoo Drainage Suit Appeal Filed

Ralph Raikes, Saunders County landowner, appealed to the State Supreme Court Wednesday from the Feb. 15 decision of District Judge H. Emerson Kokjer of Wahoo in a water drainage case.

The suit was brought by other Saunders County landowners, Ernest G. and Mabel Bahm, Theodore Sohl, Willy Wischmann and Alvina Wischmann.

Plaintiffs contended that Raikes dug channels and built dikes and levees which had the effect of diverting the flow of silver creek across land of the plaintiffs, and causing flood waters from Silver, Wahoo and Mosquito Creeks similarly to flow across plaintiffs' land.

Wind-Blown Dust-Drifts Cited In Tax Hearings

In its third day of hearings, the State Board of Equalization received a word picture of wind-blown farm land, dry and eroded soil, and dust that had to be removed from roads like snow-drifts.

Lydia Roth of McCook, Red Willow County assessor, said the county has been getting more tax complaints than ever before. Fourteen suits against the county board of equalization are on file in District Court. People seem to be "panicky" about drought conditions, she said.

Robert Bosley of Hayes Center, Hayes County Attorney, said some farmers have called conditions "worse than the 30's. Half of the wheat acreage in his county has been blown out and destroyed with the harvested acreage averaging about 18 bushels.

Road graders at times have been called out this year to open roads drifted with dust, Bosley said.

"If we don't have rain in the next week or 10 days," said Power Rann, Hayes County treasurer, "there'll be no corn crop."

Counties in a north-south strip of west central Nebraska were heard Wednesday as the state board continued the series of equalization hearings which began Monday.

The state board last week accepted the valuation figures reported by 51 counties. Most of the other 42 were called in to show why valuations should not be raised or lowered and a few were summoned at their own request.

Thursday

Douglas and Lancaster Counties, not originally called, will get hearings Thursday. Douglas asked to be heard after many counties protested the acceptance of Douglas County valuations despite a drop of about 20 per cent. The state board, to make legal any changes in the Douglas figures it might want to make, then formally summoned the county.

Hitchcock County, called in Wednesday to show why town lot and farm land valuations should not be increased, described farm conditions in the area and told of the increased presence of vacant houses.

In Trenton, the county seat and a town of some 1,200 population, there are 57 vacant houses.

Dundy County, represented by County Board Member W. H. Brown of Haigler, said a 139 per cent increase on town lots ordered by the state board last year was "entirely out of line." He said valuations this year were reduced 35 per cent in Haigler and 20 per cent in Benkelman. Dundy was asked to show why town lot values should not be hiked.

County Attorney Bosley headed the Hayes County delegation defending the county's action in making a 25 per cent cut in both farm and town valuations.

Chase County, summoned to show why town and farm valuations should not be increased, based its presentation on comparisons of values of Chase County border land with that in neighboring counties. Its representatives, led by County Attorney Lloyd Christiansen of Imperial, contended that land was not assessed more than it was worth but was assessed higher than that in other counties.

For Red Willow County, called to account for drops in both farm and town valuations, County Board Chairman Frank Hoyt and Assessor Roth appeared. Hoyt told of farm conditions and contended some of the property sales which the state board used to determine true values were not representative.

The assessor, also defending the 20 per cent cut in values made by the county, told of checking McCook business places and getting reports of business being down by 8 to 35 per cent

Pardon Board Denies Plea Of Bowman

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The State Pardon Board at its July meeting denied clemency to William Bowman, 40, Sidney, who has served over 16 years on a life sentence for first degree murder in connection with the beating and strangulation of William F. Moore, 89, who was robbed of $2.50.

It was charged that Bowman and Orville Childers, who participated in the robbery, were of the opinion the aged man kept considerable money in his home.

Bowman had previously sought clemency in 1949 and it was denied. Last year, however, Childers life term was reduced to 40 years by the board.

New Trial

The two men, both of whom had signed confessions, sought a new trial two years after their conviction on the basis of an alleged confession by Clarence Layman, a fellow inmate of the penintentiary, that he had killed Moore. At the hearing there was evidence given that Layman acted under coercion of the other two.

Paroles were given Edwin Lundy, 26, Lincoln, and Marshall Potter, 27, Indiana, who had been sentenced in 1951 to two to six years for burglary of Gage County school houses.

The pair had been transferred to the penitentiary from the men's reformatory as incorrigible on the basis of their having aided two other inmates to crash through a gate with a truck and escape.

The escape has been given wide publicity by an Omaha newspaper reporter and in national detective magazines as a weakness in administration of the penitentiary although the escape was through a wire fence gate at the reformatory.

Oilman Now

Michael J. Hammons, 32, Hobart, Okla., who said that he has inherited oil rich land in Oklahoma, received commutation of a nine year sentence imposed in York County in 1949 for uttering forged instruments. The parole was almost a birthday gift as he will be 33 years of age Thursday.

List of actions by the board:

Penitentiary

Wm. Bowman, 40, Sidney, 1st degree murder, Cheyenne, life, 1937, denied.
J. E. DeJardin, 42, Minnesota, forgery, Cheyenne, 2 years, 1953, parole.

Wind-Blown Dust-Drifts Cited In Tax Hearings

In its third day of hearings, the State Board of Equalization received a word picture of wind-blown farm land, dry and eroded soil, and dust that had to be removed from roads like snow-drifts.

Lydia Roth of McCook, Red Willow County assessor, said the county has been getting more tax complaints than ever before. Fourteen suits against the county board of equalization are on file in District Court. People seem to be "panicky" about drought conditions, she said.

Robert Bosley of Hayes Center, Hayes County Attorney, said some farmers have called conditions "worse than the 30's. Half of the wheat acreage in his county has been blown out and destroyed with the harvested acreage averaging about 18 bushels.

Road graders at times have been called out this year to open roads drifted with dust, Bosley said.

"If we don't have rain in the next week or 10 days," said Power Rann, Hayes County treasurer, "there'll be no corn crop."

Counties in a north-south strip of west central Nebraska were heard Wednesday as the state board continued the series of equalization hearings which began Monday.

The state board last week accepted the valuation figures reported by 51 counties. Most of the other 42 were called in to show why valuations should not be raised or lowered and a few were summoned at their own request.

Thursday

Douglas and Lancaster Counties, not originally called, will get hearings Thursday. Douglas asked to be heard after many counties protested the acceptance of Douglas County valuations despite a drop of about 20 per cent. The state board, to make legal any changes in the Douglas figures it might want to make, then formally summoned the county.

Hitchcock County, called in Wednesday to show why town lot and farm land valuations should not be increased, described farm conditions in the area and told of the increased presence of vacant houses.

In Trenton, the county seat and a town of some 1,200 population, there are 57 vacant houses.

Dundy County, represented by County Board Member W. H. Brown of Haigler, said a 139 per cent increase on town lots ordered by the state board last year was "entirely out of line." He said valuations this year were reduced 35 per cent in Haigler and 20 per cent in Benkelman. Dundy was asked to show why town lot values should not be hiked.

County Attorney Bosley headed the Hayes County delegation defending the county's action in making a 25 per cent cut in both farm and town valuations.

Chase County, summoned to show why town and farm valuations should not be increased, based its presentation on comparisons of values of Chase County border land with that in neighboring counties. Its representatives, led by County Attorney Lloyd Christiansen of Imperial, contended that land was not assessed more than it was worth but was assessed higher than that in other counties.

For Red Willow County, called to account for drops in both farm and town valuations, County Board Chairman Frank Hoyt and Assessor Roth appeared. Hoyt told of farm conditions and contended some of the property sales which the state board used to determine true values were not representative.

The assessor, also defending the 20 per cent cut in values made by the county, told of checking McCook business places and getting reports of business being down by 8 to 35 per cent.

Pardon Board Denies Plea Of Bowman

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The State Pardon Board at its July meeting denied clemency to William Bowman, 40, Sidney, who has served over 16 years on a life sentence for first degree murder in connection with the beating and strangulation of William F. Moore, 89, who was robbed of $2.50.

It was charged that Bowman and Orville Childers, who participated in the robbery, were of the opinion the aged man kept considerable money in his home.

Bowman had previously sought clemency in 1949 and it was denied. Last year, however, Childers life term was reduced to 40 years by the board.

New Trial

The two men, both of whom had signed confessions, sought a new trial two years after their conviction on the basis of an alleged confession by Clarence Layman, a fellow inmate of the penintentiary, that he had killed Moore. At the hearing there was evidence given that Layman acted under coercion of the other two.

Paroles were given Edwin Lundy, 26, Lincoln, and Marshall Potter, 27, Indiana, who had been sentenced in 1951 to two to six years for burglary of Gage County school houses.

The pair had been transferred to the penitentiary from the men's reformatory as incorrigible on the basis of their having aided two other inmates to crash through a gate with a truck and escape.

The escape has been given wide publicity by an Omaha newspaper reporter and in national detective magazines as a weakness in administration of the penitentiary although the escape was through a wire fence gate at the reformatory.

Oilman Now

Michael J. Hammons, 32, Hobart, Okla., who said that he has inherited oil rich land in Oklahoma, received commutation of a nine year sentence imposed in York County in 1949 for uttering forged instruments. The parole was almost a birthday gift as he will be 33 years of age Thursday.

List of actions by the board:

Penitentiary

Wm. Bowman, 40, Sidney, 1st degree murder, Cheyenne, life, 1937, denied.
J. E. DeJardin, 42, Minnesota, forgery, Cheyenne, 2 years, 1953, parole.
